Kennedy Is Hopeful For Truce In Laos

U.S. President, British Leader Confer Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy met with his top advisers Tuesday night on the Laos crisis and on his forthcoming talks with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

After the 2½-hour, unannounced strategy session, held at the State Department, Kennedy said "we are hopeful" the Soviets will agree to a cease-fire in Laos.

"The cease-fire is what we are most anxious to have," he said. The British are now sounding out the Russians on Soviet intent toward a stop in the fighting.

Kennedy gathered with his top aides just about the time Macmillan arrived in another part of Washington on a five-day U. S. visit saying "plenty of problems" lie ahaed. But he voiced faith that with unity among free nations "we can face the future with confidence." Kennedy and Macmillan meet at the White House Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Macmillan arrived less than two hours after Kennedy had flown back to Washington from his Easter vacation at Palm Beach, Fla.

Rusk Meets Prime Minister

Macmillan, accompanied by his wife, flew to the United States from Kingston, Jamaica. The British prime minister was met by a U.S. delegation headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In his welcoming statement, Rusk expressed optimism about the gains to be expected from the Kennedy-Macmillan talks this week "about common interests and some of our common problems."

Macmillan, tanned from his West Indies tour, responded with a reaffirmation of what he called the close partnership between the two countries.

The talks are slated to cover the wide range of international problems of mutual U.S.-British interest, with special emphasis on Laos. On that situation Kennedy and Macmillan pronounced themselves in agreement after a short meeting in Key West, Fla., March 26.

West Wants Cease-Fire First

The Western Allies say a halt to the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom is a necessary first step before the inflammatory Laotian question can be taken to an international conference. Moscow, while favoring a conference, has been publicly vague about the timing of a cease-fire.

Diplomatic informants said the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Frank Roberts, has received an informal agreement in talks with Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetzov that the Kremlin will go along with an effective cease-fire before the convening of the proposed 14-nation diplomatic conference on Laos.

Joblessness Drops After 6-Month Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment edged down a bit in March but the decline, the first in six months, was not up to seasonal expectations.

The Labor Department reported Tuesday that the number of idle workers slacked off last month to 5,495,000. This was a drop of 210,000 from February compared with the 300,000 decline normally expected.

Unemployment remained at a 20-year record for this time of year. But employment soared by 861,000 to a new March record level of 65,516,000.

Compared with a year ago, the labor force is up by about 2.5 million, with employment and unemployment both about 1.2 million higher. The labor force increased by 651,000 in March to 71,011,000.

The great upsurge in the number of workers can be partly explained by the increasing population but it is also due to the fact many women have entered the job market seeking income because the principal breadwinners are out of work.

Officials indicated that while an upturn in the economy is likely, the phenomenon of both high employment and high unemployment can be expected to continue for some time.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower statistics chief, said the March figures "underscore what President Kennedy and others have been saying—that we will have a serious unemployment problem for many months to come."

Because unemployment failed to drop as much as expected, the reasonably adjusted rate of unemployment to the work force went up from 6.8 per cent in February to 6.9 per cent in March.

Wolfbein said this is not statistically significant. What is significant, he said, is that the rate has remained over 6.5 per cent for four months.

Ex-Bandleader Booked In Death Of Singer-Wife

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Onetime hillbilly bandleader Spade Cooley was booked Tuesday on suspicion of murdering his estranged wife. A daughter told officers she saw him beat her mother at their palatial desert home Monday night.

The nude and bruised body of Ella Mae Cooley, 35, former band singer, was found wrapped in a blanket when an ambulance answered Cooley's summons about midnight.

An autopsy attributed death to either a blow-ruptured heart artery or a ruptured thyroid. The latter, a surgeon said, could have resulted from choking.

Another relative, Cooley's daughter-in-law, told officers Cooley was wearing blood-spattered clothing when he met her at the door of the ranch house Monday night.

Cooley, 55, brought here for booking, admitted slapping his wife in an argument, officers said, but denied hitting her hard enough to cause death.

Cooley, a violinist, whose western band was a top television attraction 10 years ago, filed suit for divorce March 23.

Tobacco Heir Weds; Wife No. 3 Protests

SAPELO ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Tobacco heir Richard J. Reynolds Tuesday announced he had taken a fourth wife in a shipboard wedding in the South China Sea and wife No. 3 promptly branded the marriage illegal.

"I am shocked," said Muriel Marston Reynolds, 46, after Reynolds announced he had wed a 31-year-old German doctor of philosophy, Anne-Marie Schmitt, board the SS Rotterdam last month.

Muriel Reynolds and her attorneys claimed in a sharply worded statement that the 55-year-old multimillionaire's latest marriage was illegal because her divorce appeal is still pending before the Georgia Supreme Court.

Reds Accept Four A-Test Concessions

Western Diplomat Says Soviets Offer No Compromises

GENEVA (AP)—In its first reaction to the Western compromise offer on a nuclear test ban, the Soviet Union accepted Tuesday four Western proposals involving no major Russian concessions.

The four areas selected by the Russians for agreement in principle embrace underground and outer space nuclear tests, experimental earth-moving projects and the budget of the organization that would police a ban on nuclear tests. These were points at which the United States and Great Britain met the Soviet demands.

"This is no surprise," said a Western diplomat. "We met them all the way on these points. Naturally they are willing to accept their own proposals. But so far they are still unwilling to offer any compromise of their own."

Soviets Not Budging

However, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin called his move a positive step.

At the same time he left no doubt the Soviet Union, while willing to accept any concessions offered by the United States and Britain, does not intend to budge an inch from its own position.

Tsarapkin told U.S. negotiator Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore his government is prepared to agree to these compromise proposals:

1. Complete partnership in a research program for better detection of small nuclear underground blasts. The United States has stated it is willing, if there should be a treaty, to seek a change of U.S. legislation that would allow Soviet technicians to inspect the workings of all American devices used in the program.

Constructive A-Blasts

2. Unrestricted East-West cooperation in a program to create harbors and blast away mountains with nuclear explosions.

3. Soviet-British-American studies on how to prevent illegal nuclear explosions in outer space, including blasts hidden behind the moon and the sun. Here Tsarapkin said he would give a final reply after Soviet experts complete their study of the American plan.

4. The over-all annual budget of the proposed system to police a test ban should be fixed in advance by unanimity of the parties to a test ban treaty.

Ship's Skipper Refuses To Talk About Incident

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Capt. Richard Steadman brought the cable repair ship Western Union into port here Tuesday but refused to talk about the meeting with a Cuban gunboat that became an international incident.

"The State Department has me tied up," he told newsmen. "I can't discuss it until I get other orders."

The Western Union was intercepted by the Cuban boat off Cuba, on its return voyage after repairing the Miami-Barbados cable off Puerto Rico.

Steadman said he was five miles off the Cuban coast and the United States charged Fidel Castro's government with harassment on the high seas. Castro was expected to claim that the vessel was within Cuba's territorial three-mile limit.

Ordered to put into Baracoa, Steadman got off a radio message that brought U.S. planes and a destroyer to his aid. He was released after six hours.

The 92-ton, two-masted schooner carried a crew of 11.

Marcello, Rackets Kingpin, Deported

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Immigration Service announced Tuesday that it has deported Carlos Marcello, reputed kingpin of New Orleans racketeering, to Guatemala. He was sent by plane.

Immigration officials in Washington said Marcello was handed a warrant of deportation when he reported to register as an alien in the immigration office in New Orleans. He was driven directly to the airport where he departed for Guatemala.

Marcello has been under a deportation order since 1955 on a narcotics conviction.

Soviet Favors World Break With S. Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union plunged Tuesday into an Asian-African family squabble over proposed reprisals against South Africa. The Reds threw support behind an all-African demand for a worldwide break with the white supremacist South African government.

Soviet delegate Arkady Sobolev told the 99-nation Special Political Committee his government backed the call by the 25 African U. N. members for sweeping sanctions against the South African regime to force a change in its race policies.

Sobolev declared the African resolution reflected the will of people throughout the world for harsh punitive measures against South Africa.

His move lined the Soviet bloc against the United States on the apartheid — segregation — question. The U. S. delegation has made plain it opposes sanctions against South Africa at this stage on grounds they would hurt the victims of the race laws more than the leaders of the government.

The 46-nation Asian-African bloc split Monday night over the race issue, with the African faction swinging solidly behind Ghana's call for an economic and diplomatic break with South Africa.

Failing to reach a compromise, India, Ceylon and Malaya put in a rival resolution to permit nations individually and collectively to use what pressures they deemed fit on the South African regime.

President Could Become "Fine" Golfer, Bing Says

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy "is a pretty good golfer who could become a very fine one if he had the time to play," Bing Crosby said in a telephone interview Tuesday.

A match between Kennedy and ex-President Eisenhower would "be pretty even now," Crosby told sports writer Ed Schoenfeld of the Oakland Tribune. The crooner is in Hollywood, Calif.

"But Kennedy could do a lot better if he had the time. He hits a longer ball off the tee than Ike."

CAB Approves Merger Of UAL, Capital Airlines

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Tuesday officially gave United Air Lines permission to acquire Capital Airlines, climaxing the biggest merger transaction in U.S. commercial aviation history.

United plans to begin consolidated operations over Capital's routes by June 1.

The CAB's long-awaited decision will make United the nation's biggest air carrier, supplanting American Airlines in terms of of route miles, aircraft, personnel and potential passenger traffic.

The CAB said it decided to approve the merger "because it has no practical alternative."

It said Capital could not survive if the merger were disapproved and added "The plain truth is that this board will not sit idly by and allow our fifth largest domestic trunkline route system to run the risk of disintegration while possibly but highly uncertain remedies are being explored."

The CAB announcement said that the public interest in preventing a collapse of capital "outweighs whatever disadvantages may inhere in the merger."

GOP's Tower Leads In Texas Senate Election

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Republican John Tower, a 34-year-old assistant professor of government in a Wichita Falls University, took the lead Tuesday night in early, but steadily increasing returns from a special election to find a Senate successor for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Tower opposed Johnson last November in the general election for the U. S. Senate. Johnson was reelected to the Senate and elected vice president on the same ballot. Tower lost last November, but got more votes than any Republican has ever gotten in a statewide election in Texas.

Tower was one of a record field of 64 candidates in Tuesday's election. He also was one of the "serious six"—the only six candidates given any chance of winning.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau from 100 of the state's 254 counties, including 21 complete, gave the "serious six" the following vote:

Interim Sen. William A. Blakley of Dallas, 35,443; state Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, 12,508; Maury Maverick of San Antonio, 19,516; Tower, 71,494; Atty. Gen. Will Wilson of Dallas, 23,539, and Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth, 29,530.

The Texas election bureau did not indicate what the vote was for the rest of the candidates. None was believed to have any chance of winning anyway because they are almost unknown among the voters.

Tuesday's election probably will do no more than eliminate all of the candidates except the top two. There probably are too many candidates for any candidate to get a majority; that is, as many votes as all the other candidates put together, plus one.

Astronaut Trio Will Get Centrifuge Tests Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The three stretch-running Mercury astronauts will soon undergo intensive tests on a giant centrifuge as the time nears to select one for a flight into space.

Officials o the Civilian Space Agency said Tuesday that beginning in about two weeks, the trio would get two or three days of intensive workouts on a device which will expose them to the same acceleration forces one of them will face when he blasts off in a capsule atop a big Redstone rocket.

The seven astronauts in training have been narrowed down to these three in the selection of the man to attempt the first U.S. space flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration declined to say when a manned flight will be attempted--that is, the firing of a Redstone some 100 miles high in a nonorbital 16-minute flight several hundred miles downrange from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

But the unofficial word is that it will take place early in May.

NASA officials said it had been decided to subject the men to new tests on the centrifuge device at a Navy installation at Johnsville, Pa., "because they haven't had any such tests for several months."

The three astronauts who will undergo the tests are: Marine Lt. Col. John G. Glenn of New Concord, Ohio and Arlington, Va.; Air Force Capt. Virgil Grissom, a native of Mitchell, Ind.; and Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, Jr., of Virginia Beach, Va.

Defense Being Remoulded To Ride Out All-Out Atom Attack, McNamara Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress Tuesday America's military forces are being remolded so they can ride out a massive nuclear attack and not require hair-trigger response to survive.

That key theory behind the revamped $43,794,345,000 defense budget President Kennedy sent to Congress was presented at the start of closed hearings on military spending by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

McNamara laid the groundwork for questioning of other witnesses about the $1.95-billion increase Kennedy proposed in new obligational authority — authorizing the services to order equipment to be paid in the next and subsequent years.

He also spelled out some details Kennedy's budget message did not pinpoint.

His prepared testimony given to newsmen anticipated criticism of some Kennedy proposals—a cutback in developing the supersonic B70 manned bomber, abandonment of plans for a nuclear-powered military plane, and no step up in production of the Nike-Zeus antimissile system.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., applauded Kennedy's proposals after McNamara testified but expressed doubts about the drastic cutback in the B70 manned bomber program.

The B70 is being developed to fly 2,000 miles an hour or faster and climb to 80,000 feet or higher.

McNamara, defending Kennedy's decision to cut back the program by $1.4 billion and to four planes, said the B70 if perfected will be "an extremely complex and costly aircraft." It would not be available in operational numbers until 1968, he said.

"Well before that time, we expect to have a large number of intercontinental ballistic missiles fully tested and in place, as well as a still substantial manned bomber force equipped with air-to-ground missiles," he said.

As for a military nuclear-powered plane, McNamara said such an aircraft would have little or no military value because of its huge size, slow speed and radiation dangers.

He said no funds for putting the Nike-Zeus into production were asked because there still is considerable uncertainty as to its technical feasibility even if it is successfully developed.

4,000 Storm Airport Held By U.N. Force

Tshombe Ultimatum Called Off Too Late To Avert Violence

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Thousands of knife-wielding, stone-throwing Africans ran wild in Elisabethville and its suburbs Tuesday in a rampage against United Nations soldiers. By nightfall, much of Elisabethville and its environs looked like a city at war.

The Africans were whipped to frenzy when President Moise Tshombe, the strong man leader, delivered an ultimatum to Swedish U. N. soldiers to surrender Elisabethville's airport or face attack by his mobilized people.

Tshombe tried to call off the ultimatum two hours later, but that was too late to avert violence. Thousands of Africans swarmed over the roads leading to the airport. Soon a screaming crowd of 4,000 was laying siege to the airport, occupied by the Swedish U. N. force.

Katanga Army Halts Mob

A hail of stones smashed airport windows, and the Africans seemed just about to storm into the building when a company of Tshombe's Katanga army arrived and took up positions before the terminal's shattered glass doors.

Inside the terminal the Swedish soldiers stood with their backs to the wall in a far corner of the entrance hall. Grimly they held their weapons at the ready as they watched the crowd of Africans, many waving pangas, long-bladed, primitive slashing knives.

But the crowd, angered by this, swarmed toward the main flagstaff, ripped down the big blue ensign of the United Nations and tore it to bits. Others of the crowd streamed across runways, whooping and screaming, waving pangas and clubs.

Inside the terminal building, women passengers screamed with fright. On an apron of the airport, stones were flung at newsmen.

30 Swedes Reported Seized

There was an unconfirmed report that 30 Swedish soldiers, part of the airport force commanded by Col. Anders Kjellgren, U. N. chief for south Katanga, were taken prisoner. The Swedes had been billeted about a mile from the airport.

The mobs got out of control just as Tshombe and U. N. officials reached agreement on control of the airport.

Before dawn Tuesday, Tshombe soldiers attempted to seize the airport from the U. N. force in control there. The Swedes turned them back.

In a rage, Tshombe delivered an ultimatum to the Swedes: Get out of the airport within two hours. He announced his ultimatum to a screaming crowd of 10,000 Africans, telling them to prepare to attack.

As the deadline neared, U. N. officials and Tshombe agreed the airport should be under the joint and equal control of U. N. and Katanga authorities. Tshombe then tried to call off his followers.

Finch-Tregoff Jury Locked Up For Night

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jury, trying to decide whether Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his girl friend shall live or die, was locked up [illegible] Tuesday with no sign of progress.

The jurors left for their hotel after seven hours and 18 minutes of deliberation in two days.

The 10 men and two women, who convicted the pair after two earlier trials ended in jury deadlocks, had been expected to decide speedily on a sentence.

Dr. Finch, 43, and Carole Tregoff, 24, were convicted of the murder of his socialite wife, Barbara Jean, 36. She was shot to death at the Finch home July 18, 1959. The surgeon said it was accident. The state called it cold-blooded murder.

Kennedy's Guards Get Horsemanship Lessons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Secret Service said Tuesday some of its agents are being trained in horsemanship against the day when President Kennedy may go riding.

The equitation candidates were selected on the basis of past experience with horses.

Chief Inspector Michael Torina said the agents take riding instructions at Middleburg, Va., where Kennedy has his country estate.

The seven astronauts in training have been narrowed down to these three in the selection of the man to attempt the first U.S. space flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration declined to say when a manned flight will be attempted--that is, the firing of a Redstone some 100 miles high in a nonorbital 16-minute flight several hundred miles downrange from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

But the unofficial word is that it will take place early in May.

NASA officials said it had been decided to subject the men to new tests on the centrifuge device at a Navy installation at Johnsville, Pa., "because they haven't had any such tests for several months."

The three astronauts who will undergo the tests are: Marine Lt. Col. John G. Glenn of New Concord, Ohio and Arlington, Va.; Air Force Capt. Virgil Grissom, a native of Mitchell, Ind.; and Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, Jr., of Virginia Beach, Va.

Soviet Favors World Break With S. Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union plunged Tuesday into an Asian-African family squabble over proposed reprisals against South Africa. The Reds threw support behind an all-African demand for a worldwide break with the white supremacist South African government.

Soviet delegate Arkady Sobolev told the 99-nation Special Political Committee his government backed the call by the 25 African U. N. members for sweeping sanctions against the South African regime to force a change in its race policies.

Sobolev declared the African resolution reflected the will of people throughout the world for harsh punitive measures against South Africa.

His move lined the Soviet bloc against the United States on the apartheid — segregation — question. The U. S. delegation has made plain it opposes sanctions against South Africa at this stage on grounds they would hurt the victims of the race laws more than the leaders of the government.

The 46-nation Asian-African bloc split Monday night over the race issue, with the African faction swinging solidly behind Ghana's call for an economic and diplomatic break with South Africa.

Failing to reach a compromise, India, Ceylon and Malaya put in a rival resolution to permit nations individually and collectively to use what pressures they deemed fit on the South African regime.

Miss Air Hostess

BIARRITZ, FRANCE (AP) — Anne-Marie Audinto, a pretty Air France hostess who frequently serves on President Charles de Gaulle's plane, has been chosen Miss Air Hostess of 1961. She won over contestants representing airlines of the United States, Japan, Britain, Holland, Brazil, West Germany and Australia.

President Could Become "Fine" Golfer, Bing Says

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy "is a pretty good golfer who could become a very fine one if he had the time to play," Bing Crosby said in a telephone interview Tuesday.

A match between Kennedy and ex-President Eisenhower would "be pretty even now," Crosby told sports writer Ed Schoenfeld of the Oakland Tribune. The crooner is in Hollywood, Calif.

"But Kennedy could do a lot better if he had the time. He hits a longer ball off the tee than Ike."

CAB Approves Merger Of UAL, Capital Airlines

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Tuesday officially gave United Air Lines permission to acquire Capital Airlines, climaxing the biggest merger transaction in U.S. commercial aviation history.

United plans to begin consolidated operations over Capital's routes by June 1.

The CAB's long-awaited decision will make United the nation's biggest air carrier, supplanting American Airlines in terms of of route miles, aircraft, personnel and potential passenger traffic.

The CAB said it decided to approve the merger "because it has no practical alternative."

It said Capital could not survive if the merger were disapproved and added "The plain truth is that this board will not sit idly by and allow our fifth largest domestic trunkline route system to run the risk of disintegration while possibly but highly uncertain remedies are being explored."

The CAB announcement said that the public interest in preventing a collapse of capital "outweighs whatever disadvantages may inhere in the merger."

GOP's Tower Leads In Texas Senate Election

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Republican John Tower, a 34-year-old assistant professor of government in a Wichita Falls University, took the lead Tuesday night in early, but steadily increasing returns from a special election to find a Senate successor for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Tower opposed Johnson last November in the general election for the U. S. Senate. Johnson was reelected to the Senate and elected vice president on the same ballot. Tower lost last November, but got more votes than any Republican has ever gotten in a statewide election in Texas.

Tower was one of a record field of 64 candidates in Tuesday's election. He also was one of the "serious six"—the only six candidates given any chance of winning.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau from 100 of the state's 254 counties, including 21 complete, gave the "serious six" the following vote:

Interim Sen. William A. Blakley of Dallas, 35,443; state Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, 12,508; Maury Maverick of San Antonio, 19,516; Tower, 71,494; Atty. Gen. Will Wilson of Dallas, 23,539, and Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth, 29,530.

The Texas election bureau did not indicate what the vote was for the rest of the candidates. None was believed to have any chance of winning anyway because they are almost unknown among the voters.

Tuesday's election probably will do no more than eliminate all of the candidates except the top two. There probably are too many candidates for any candidate to get a majority; that is, as many votes as all the other candidates put together, plus one.

4,000 Storm Airport Held By U.N. Force

Tshombe Ultimatum Called Off Too Late To Avert Violence

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Thousands of knife-wielding, stone-throwing Africans ran wild in Elisabethville and its suburbs Tuesday in a rampage against United Nations soldiers. By nightfall, much of Elisabethville and its environs looked like a city at war.

The Africans were whipped to frenzy when President Moise Tshombe, the strong man leader, delivered an ultimatum to Swedish U. N. soldiers to surrender Elisabethville's airport or face attack by his mobilized people.

Tshombe tried to call off the ultimatum two hours later, but that was too late to avert violence. Thousands of Africans swarmed over the roads leading to the airport. Soon a screaming crowd of 4,000 was laying siege to the airport, occupied by the Swedish U. N. force.

Katanga Army Halts Mob

A hail of stones smashed airport windows, and the Africans seemed just about to storm into the building when a company of Tshombe's Katanga army arrived and took up positions before the terminal's shattered glass doors.

Inside the terminal the Swedish soldiers stood with their backs to the wall in a far corner of the entrance hall. Grimly they held their weapons at the ready as they watched the crowd of Africans, many waving pangas, long-bladed, primitive slashing knives.

Tshombe's men, members of the best-disciplined army in the divided, strife-torn Congo, kept the Africans from storming into the building.

But the crowd, angered by this, swarmed toward the main flagstaff, ripped down the big blue ensign of the United Nations and tore it to bits. Others of the crowd streamed across runways, whooping and screaming, waving pangas and clubs.

30 Swedes Reported Seized

There was an unconfirmed report that 30 Swedish soldiers, part of the airport force commanded by Col. Anders Kjellgren, U. N. chief for south Katanga, were taken prisoner. The Swedes had been billeted about a mile from the airport.

The mobs got out of control just as Tshombe and U. N. officials reached agreement on control of the airport.

Before dawn Tuesday, Tshombe soldiers attempted to seize the airport from the U. N. force in control there. The Swedes turned them back.

In a rage, Tshombe delivered an ultimatum to the Swedes: Get out of the airport within two hours. He announced his ultimatum to a screaming crowd of 10,000 Africans, telling them to prepare to attack.

As the deadline neared, U. N. officials and Tshombe agreed the airport should be under the joint and equal control of U. N. and Katanga authorities. Tshombe then tried to call off his followers.

Finch-Tregoff Jury Locked Up For Nignt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jury, trying to decide whether Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his girl friend shall live or die, was locked up late Tuesday with no sign of progress.

The jurors left for their hotel after seven hours and 18 minutes of deliberation in two days.

The 10 men and two women, who convicted the pair after two earlier trials ended in jury deadlocks, had been expected to decide speedily on a sentence.

Dr. Finch, 43, and Carole Tregoff, 24, were convicted of the murder of his socialite wife, Barbara Jean, 36. She was shot to death at the Finch home July 18, 1959. The surgeon said it was accident. The state called it cold-blooded murder.

Kennedy's Guards Get Horsemanship Lessons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Secret Service said Tuesday some of its agents are being trained in horsemanship against the day when President Kennedy may go riding.

The equitation candidates were selected on the basis of past experience with horses.

Defense Being Remoulded To Ride Out All-Out Atom Attack, McNamara Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress Tuesday America's military forces are being remolded so they can ride out a massive nuclear attack and not require hair-trigger response to survive.

That key theory behind the revamped $43,794,345,000 defense budget President Kennedy sent to Congress was presented at the start of closed hearings on military spending by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

McNamara laid the groundwork for questioning of other witnesses about the $1.95-billion increase Kennedy proposed in new obligational authority — authorizing the services to order equipment to be paid in the next and subsequent years.

He also spelled out some details Kennedy's budget message did not pinpoint.

His prepared testimony given to newsmen anticipated criticism of some Kennedy proposals—a cutback in developing the supersonic B70 manned bomber, abandonment of plans for a nuclear-powered military plane, and no step-up in production of the Nike-Zeus antimissile system.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., applauded Kennedy's proposals after McNamara testified but expressed doubts about the drastic cutback in the B70 manned bomber program.

The B70 is being developed to fly 2,000 miles an hour or faster and climb to 30,000 feet or higher.

McNamara, defending Kennedy's decision to cut back the program by $1.4 billion and to four planes, said the B70 if perfected will be "an extremely complex and costly aircraft." It would not be available in operational numbers until 1968, he said.

"Well before that time, we expect to have a large number of intercontinental ballistic missiles fully tested and in place, as well as a still substantial manned bomber force equipped with air-to-ground missiles," he said.

As for a military nuclear-powered plane, McNamara said such an aircraft would have little or no military value because of its huge size, slow speed and radiation dangers.

He said no funds for putting the Nike-Zeus into production were asked because there still is considerable uncertainty as to its technical feasibility even if it is successfully developed.

Court Of Appeals Asked To Declare Potomac River Compact Vote Invalid

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Attorney Hyman A. Pressman asked the Court of Appeals Tuesday to declare the results of a November referendum on the Potomac River Compact to be invalid and order a new vote on the issue.

The Baltimore attorney sought overthrow of a Baltimore City Circuit Court ruling upholding the controversial pact with Virginia. He alleged seven grounds for reversal of the lower court.

Pressman represents Southern Maryland watermen who petitioned the issue onto the Nov. 8 ballot where it won a 33,000-vote endorsement.

The compact sets up a bi-state agency for regulation of the Potomac's fishery. It replaces a 1785 agreement unilaterally abrogated by the 1957 Maryland General Assembly.

The 1958 compact was drawn by a 10-member commission, five Marylanders and five Virginians, appointed after Virginia filed a bill of complaint in the U. S. Supreme Court seeking to make the 1785 compact binding.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed was appointed a special master in the case and has granted both states a stay pending the outcome of this litigation. The most recent stay expires May 1.

In his argument before the high court, Pressman relied principally on his former argument that the referendum was improperly advertised.

He alleged "although the constitutional and statutory provisions required that the text of the law be published (before the election) at least in all the daily newspapers published in Baltimore City and in two or more newspapers in each county, the text was published in only one Baltimore City newspaper, the Baltimore Sun."

Pressman said the 15 other constitutional amendments on the Nov. 8 ballot were published in three Baltimore City newspapers and 53 county newspapers.

Pressman also contended the compact hould be declared invalid because:

3 — It abdicates the Maryland Legislature's power to legislate the Maryland-owned river.

BAC To Expand Ranks, Permit News Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Business Advisory Council has agreed under pressure of the Kennedy administration to open its ranks to small business men and to permit news coverage of some of its sessions.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced Tuesday that BAC, composed of big corporation executives, had accepted a series of organizational changes which he proposed as "suggestions."

President Kennedy was consulted on the changes, Hodges told a news conference, and concurred in them.

The council was formed early in the 1930s to help the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration cope with the depression. Its purpose was to keep the Commerce Department informed of the business community's viewpoint on economic conditions.

It developed into an organization of 170 top-drawer executives, including the heads of the country's biggest corporations, who met periodically behind closed doors in a Hot Springs, Va., resort hotel and elsewhere.

The council adopted a policy of barring newsmen from its sessions on the ground that businessmen should be able to talk over their problems with the government in private.

Hodges said he agrees with this concept but announced that hereafter news reporters will be admitted to any council session at which a government official is the speaker.

14 Hurt In Paris Bomb Explosion

PARIS (AP — A bomb blast sent bricks and glass fragments whistling through a crowded trading room of the Paris Stock Exchange Tuesday, injuring 14 people, two seriously.

The bomb—believed planted by right-wing extremists — exploded in a second-floor washroom. It blew out the brick wall of a trading room, still filled with brokers and employes although trading had stopped 15 minutes earlier.

Windows in nearby buildings were shattered. One of the injured was a secretary cut by flying glass in a building across the street from the exchange.

It was the 14th bombing this year in Paris itself, all of them laid to right-wing extremists stirred to rage by France's move to negotiate peace with Algeria's rebels.

Nurse To Spend Week In Fallout Shelter

BALTIMORE (AP)—Miss Sara C. Rafter, a 22-year-old nurse who plans to undergo a seven-day confinement in a fallout shelter starting Sunday, said Tuesday she hoped she would not "go stark crazy."

The experimental confinement will be part of the Baltimore Home Show, which opens Sunday. Miss Rafter will be on public display in her shelter, and will be able to communicate with outsiders.

The shelter, designed to cost about $2,000, is 10 feet in diameter and 6½ feet high. Fresh air is pumped in through a filter system.

Art Gallery Uses Roll-Top Curtain To Censor Nude

LONDON (AP)—An art gallery in Scotland is using a roll-top curtain—something like a window blind—to censor a nude by one of Britain's great painters.

And how is the great painter taking the news?

Widow Beaten, Raped; GI Held

ASHTON, Md. (AP)—A 60-year-old widow was beaten and raped by a man who broke into her fashionable home early Tuesday.

Within three hours, Carl Melvin Estep, 18, of Ashton, a soldier on leave from the Army, was picked up as a suspect after being trailed to his grandmother's home a quarter-mile away by dogs of the District of Columbia canine corps.

Estep later was charged by Montgomery County police with burglary and rape. He was held for a hearing April 10 in Silver Spring Peoples Court.

The woman, who was alone in the house and sleeping in an upstairs bedroom, told police she awakened between midnight and 1 a.m. and saw a man standing over her.

She said the man struck her face several times with his fist and slapped her. She told police she believed the man held a knife or "some sort of shiny object" at her throat before raping her.

When the man fled, the woman notified police. She later was admitted to Montgomery County General Hospital near Olney.

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — Two civilian workers at Aberdeen Proving Grounds here plunged 40 feet to their death Tuesday when a platform on which they were standing opened beneath them.

Officials at the Army center identified the victims as John Whalstrum, 32, of Aberdeen, and John Henry Cheshier, 39, of Havre de Grace, Md.

The two men were working on a wooden elevator platform which serviced a Nike guided missile 40 feet below ground. The platform was of the type which could be opened, officials said.

In the toughest, most realistic test of all-around gasoline economy ever staged—the NASCAR sanctioned 1961 Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona Speedway, Rambler won—not just one—but the three trophies held by driver Les Viland in the photo above.

No other make won more than one award . . . most won none.

Unlike other runs that put a premium on feather-footed driving, the Pure Oil Economy Trials closely parallel your own everyday driving experience.

Every U.S.-built production car is eligible. None are arbitrarily barred, as in some other runs. 145 cars representing all 5 U.S. manufacturers entered this year's Trials.

Rambler American Custom with overdrive beat them all to win the cherished Overall Winner Trophy and captured the Class 6 trophy in competition with Falcon, Corvair, Lark and Tempest 4. In fact, Rambler American took the first 6 places—8 of first 10.

And Ambassador V-8 by Rambler won its Class, swept the first 8 places and 9 of the first 10 spots.

Traveling at speeds up to 65 M.P.H. and averaging more than 40 M.P.H., the winning Rambler American made 14 complete stops, one stop every 1.9 miles, and shifted through the gears 15 times while circling the 3.7 mile course and still averaged a phenomenal 26.86 miles per gallon.

This is the second straight year that Rambler has won the Pure Oil Economy Trials.

Want more proof of Rambler value? Then see your Rambler dealer. You'll find top gas economy is just part of your savings. Rambler costs less to buy, is voted most trouble-free by owners, has top resale value.

Rambler dealers sell twice as many compact cars per dealer as most other dealer groups. That means, you get a better deal . . . on the best of the compacts. Rambler—world standard of compact car excellence.

Va. Police Still Believe Dudley Tot Died There

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia authorities said Tuesday they are still "positively convinced" that 8-year-old Carol Ann Dudley died in Hanover County.

Her father, Kenneth E. Dudley, 47, said Saturday that she did not die in Virginia, but in Maryland.

During the weekend, Dudley and his wife, Irene, 44, were questioned by Maryland and Virginia officers, and given lie detector tests, but police were not convinced by the new turn of events in the case.

Capt. R. H. Holland of the Virginia State Police said he is still convinced the child died in Virginia and not in Maryland.

He did not say specifically what the lie tests showed.

"No information has been uncovered, nothing has happened, no information has come to light to change our conviction that the little girl died in Hanover County," said Holland.

The Dudleys are accused of her murder by starvation in Hanover.

H "and said he could not speak for Maryland officers as to what their convictions were, "but they've gone home and I haven't heard anything about extradition."

In Maryland, Cpl. C. R. Grant, one of two state policemen who made the trip to Virginia, said Tuesday:

"We are only able to conclude from the evidence now at hand that the death of this child occurred in Virginia. Insofar as we are concerned at this time, our investigation is concluded.

"The state's attorney of Prince Georges County, William Kaylor, has been informed of the information we have and what was done and so forth and he concurs that there can be no further action from this end at this time."

Dudley, in Richmond's city jail while awaiting Hanover County trial, wrote last week to Maryland State Police, saying he had to talk to them. He revealed in an interview that he would tell them his daughter died near Laurel, Md., at a truck stop on U.S.1.

The child's body was found Feb. 9 in Brunswick County, and the Dudleys were subsequently arrested in North Carolina.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Everett Crosby, Bing's brother, has acquired the American rights to Federico Fellini's "La Dolce Vita," the prize winning film that has already grossed $20,000,000 in its run in Rome, Paris, Tokyo and Buenos Aires. Everett pulled off this coup with department store owner Franklin F. Bruder when they took control of Astor Pictures. There are few movies that have been as much discussed as "La Dolce Vita."

Everett, who was always a smart businessman, has also acquired Fellini's "The Swindle," and Rossellini's "Rocco and His Brothers."

At least Richard Zanuck is making a picture of which I thoroughly approve. I was bitter against "The Chapman Report" and made no bones about saying so. I also thought that "Sanctuary" had too much of the gutter.

Now with that exciting book, "Fate Is the Hunter", by Ernest Gann, he really has himself a great property. Young Zanuck paid $150,000, or should I say, his father, Darryl Zanuck, paid that, and Gann himself will write the script.

A long distance call from Houston, Texas, from Kathy Grant Crosby. She told me about campaigning for her father, Delbert E. Grandstaff, for senator. She had been traveling through Texas in a bus.

"We were so well received everywhere," she said. "We had Bing's record of 'MacNamara's Band' which we played until Easter, then we played 'Easter Parade.' I'm going to stay in Houston until after the election Wednesday—then I am coming home."

Tom Ewell, who has based a career on playing a bewildered, slightly mixed-up average guy, has been confining his high priced "every day" personality to the stage and TV for the past two years. Now he heads back to movies to play the musician who meets a tragic drunken end in "Tender Is the Night"—but before his sudden death, he's a very amusing character.

The father of Brigitte Bardot, it appears, is also talented in the arts, although Brigitte is frankly critical of his efforts. Her father, Louis Bardot, a wealthy businessman, writes poetry as an avocation.

If your expression seems to take on a smirk because your mouth is too small, always part the lips when you smile.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Develop Your Smile

Don't be a dead-pan beauty . . . or frugal with your smiles. Let kindness, understanding, happiness, sympathy, and sense of humor (don't be afraid to laugh at yourself), shine through your smile. That is the smile that wins friends and makes a happier, healthier life for you.

Remember that people are looking at you, so make yourself lovely to look at — as a favor to them and yourself. Don't assume affectations in the false belief that they are sophisticated.

Grimacing, frowning, fluttering the lashes, squinting, grinning too widely, pulling the mouth into a thin line and distending the nostrils, will lead to deeply etched wrinkles. Or, they will give an entirely false impression of your personality and intentions.

Have you ever met someone whose smile seems to captivate everyone? You think she is beautiful — at least her smile makes her seem so. Her beauty must come from within. There is more to a winning smile than meets the eye. Sincerity is a requisite. People will recognize insincerity in a smile almost immediately.

Hold a tete-a-tete with your mirror to rectify your facial quirks. It will reveal your expressions if you will have a little conversation with it.

Start talking.

Show your approval over pleasure with laughter in the eyes as well as on your lips. When you discover a single grimace, work for a substitute . . . and that means replace with a smile!

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♠

East, in today's hand, selected from a recent National Championship of the American Contract Bridge league, gained a top score by master-minding declarer out of a trick to hold him to his contract.

North and South contracted for four hearts. West opened the king of spades and East signaled with the nine. When the ace of spades was continued East followed with the deuce, which in the language of defense calls for the lead of a third round of that suit. It might be well to digress for a moment to point out that occasionally third hand wishes to request the opening leader to cash a second round of the suit and then discontinue. In such case he plays a high card to the first trick but follows with a higher one to the next trick. When a defender plays "up" it is by convention a suggestion that partner shift to some other suit.

In the present case, when West cashed the ace, East was eager to have a third round of spades; so he followed with the deuce and West dutifully continued the suit, forcing declarer to ruff in dummy. This was what East wanted. He was quite convinced from the tempo of the bidding that there were no further tricks available to the defense in diamonds and clubs and was trying desperately to salvage a trump trick. If declarer, who undoubtedly holds a five card heart suit, is left to his own devices he will surely play a high heart from his own hand and then cross to dummy with the queen, at which point West will show out and lay East's jack open to a finesse. When dummy was forced declarer was unable to find out, until too late, that East had four hearts.

Declarer played the queen of hearts from dummy and, on the return, remembering East's signals in spades, was tempted to finesse the ten, but, knowing his opponent to be a "change of pace" player who might engage in such tactics whether he had the jack or not, he decided to make the normal play for the drop, after which there was no way to prevent the loss of a trump trick.

Where the defense failed to lead a third round of spades the South players had no problem, for when West showed out on the second lead of hearts the finesse became marked.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Everett Crosby, Bing's brother, has acquired the American rights to Federico Fellini's "La Dolce Vita," the prize winning film that has already grossed $20,000,000 in its run in Rome, Paris, Tokyo and Buenos Aires. Everett pulled off this coup with department store owner Franklin F. Bruder when they took control of Astor Pictures. There are few movies that have been as much discussed as "La Dolce Vita."

Everett, who was always a smart businessman, has also acquired Fellini's "The Swindle," and Rossellini's "Rocco and His Brothers."

At least Richard Zanuck is making a picture of which I thoroughly approve. I was bitter against "The Chapman Report" and made no bones about saying so. I also thought that "Sanctuary" had too much of the gutter.

Now with that exciting book, "Fate Is the Hunter", by Ernest Gann, he really has himself a great property. Young Zanuck paid $150,000, or should I say, his father, Darryl Zanuck, paid that, and Gann himself will write the script.

A long distance call from Houston, Texas, from Kathy Grant Crosby. She told me about campaigning for her father, Delbert E. Grandstaff, for senator. She had been traveling through Texas in a bus.

"We were so well received everywhere," she said. "We had Bing's record of 'MacNamara's Band' which we played until Easter, then we played 'Easter Parade.' I'm going to stay in Houston until after the election Wednesday—then I am coming home."

Tom Ewell, who has based a career on playing a bewildered, slightly mixed-up average guy, has been confining his high priced "every day" personality to the stage and TV for the past two years. Now he heads back to movies to play the musician who meets a tragic drunken end in "Tender Is the Night"—but before his sudden death, he's a very amusing character.

The father of Brigitte Bardot, it appears, is also talented in the arts, although Brigitte is frankly critical of his efforts. Her father, Louis Bardot, a wealthy businessman, writes poetry as an avocation.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Develop Your Smile

Don't be a dead-pan beauty . . . or frugal with your smiles. Let kindness, understanding, happiness, sympathy, and sense of humor (don't be afraid to laugh at yourself), shine through your smile. That is the smile that wins friends and makes a happier, healthier life for you.

Remember that people are looking at you, so make yourself lovely to look at — as a favor to them and yourself. Don't assume affectations in the false belief that they are sophisticated.

Grimacing, frowning, fluttering the lashes, squinting, grinning too widely, pulling the mouth into a thin line and distending the nostrils, will lead to deeply etched wrinkles. Or, they will give an entirely false impression of your personality and intentions.

Have you ever met someone whose smile seems to captivate everyone? You think she is beautiful — at least her smile makes her seem so. Her beauty must come from within. There is more to a winning smile than meets the eye. Sincerity is a requisite. People will recognize insincerity in a smile almost immediately.

Hold a tete-a-tete with your mirror to rectify your facial quirks. It will reveal your expressions if you will have a little conversation with it.

Start talking.

Show your approval over pleasure with laughter in the eyes as well as on your lips. When you discover a single grimace, work for a substitute . . . and that means replace with a smile!

Opening lead: King of ♠

East, in today's hand, selected from a recent National Championship of the American Contract Bridge league, gained a top score by master-minding declarer out of a trick to hold him to his contract.

North and South contracted for four hearts. West opened the king of spades and East signaled with the nine. When the ace of spades was continued East followed with the deuce, which in the language of defense calls for the lead of a third round of that suit. It might be well to digress for a moment to point out that occasionally third hand wishes to request the opening leader to cash a second round of the suit and then discontinue. In such case he plays a high card to the first trick but follows with a higher one to the next trick. When a defender plays "up" it is by convention a suggestion that partner shift to some other suit.

In the present case, when West cashed the ace, East was eager to have a third round of spades; so he followed with the deuce and West dutifully continued the suit, forcing declarer to ruff in dummy. This was what East wanted. He was quite convinced from the tempo of the bidding that there were no further tricks available to the defense in diamonds and clubs and was trying desperately to salvage a trump trick. If declarer, who undoubtedly holds a five card heart suit, is left to his own devices he will surely play a high heart from his own hand and then cross to dummy with the queen, at which point West will show out and lay East's jack open to a finesse. When dummy was forced declarer was unable to find out, until too late, that East had four hearts.

Declarer played the queen of hearts from dummy and, on the return, remembering East's signals in spades, was tempted to finesse the ten, but, knowing his opponent to be a "change of pace" player who might engage in such tactics whether he had the jack or not, he decided to make the normal play for the drop, after which there was no way to prevent the loss of a trump trick.

Where the defense failed to lead a third round of spades the South players had no problem, for when West showed out on the second lead of hearts the finesse became marked.

Some Refunds On Taxes May Be Taxable

Refunds or credits of state and local taxes, which were claimed as a deduction on a prior year's federal income tax return, generally constitute taxable income and must be reported on federal income tax returns in the year received.

Irving Machiz, district director of Internal Revenue, issued this reminder for Baltimore district taxpayers who have questioned the treatment of Maryland state and District of Columbia refunds or credits received during last year.

He noted, however, that where the taxpayer claimed the standard deduction in the prior year, he is not considered to have received a federal tax benefit from such payment in the prior year and need not report a subsequent refund or credit of state or local taxes paid.

Taxpayers who have taxable refunds or credits to report should list them in Schedule H of Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." Forms 1040A and 1040W cannot be used for this purpose.

Mr. Machiz pointed out that the same rule generally applies in the case of subsequent refunds or reimbursements, by insurance or otherwise, of other deductible items such as medical expenses, casualty losses interest, etc.

Refunds or credits of federal taxes are not taxable income, and need not be reported on the tax return, but any interest received on local, state or federal returns is taxable income.

Acts Confuse

Thomas B. Finan will be asked for an opinion to clarify the situation.

It appears certain that the county commissioners will wind up the next fiscal year June 30, 1962, with a tremendous surplus if all of the additional $551,205 in state aid is to be retained in the county general fund for the entire year. The county's surplus when the levy was set up yesterday amounted to $615,074.58. Conceivably, it could go above $1,000,000 a year hence.

In approving the 10-cent reduction in the county tax rate and the levy list, the county commissioners divided the expenditures into 20 different accounts. Thirteen of these 20 are being increased a total of more than $300,000. On the other hand four are being lowered a total of over $290,000. Two others remain unchanged and the sanitary and waste removal budget of $39,150 is a new item.

That new figure for sanitary and waste removal accounts for nearly 80 per cent of the net increase in the budget of $51,605.05. Total expenditures for the current fiscal year are $5,602,536.73 compared with $5,654,141.78 in the upcoming 12 months.

13 Budgets Higher

The following departmental budgets are higher in the forthcoming fiscal year:

Legislative and executive, $27,950, up $2,606; judicial, $126,225.40, up $9,707.80; elections, $39,537, up $2,376; finance, $156,768, up $37,056.90; law, $7,000, up $1,000; public safety, $37,573.40, up $2,155; conservation of health, $104,188, up $15,892.04; hospital, $329,106.90, up $25,846.83; public welfare, $465,277.20, up $25,868.56; corrections, $51,337.25, up $3,224.34; schools, $2,187,684, up $169,771; recreation (county library), $40,000, up $6,400; public service, $37,689, up $360.

Buildings, $94,746.70, down $43,200.07; other protection, $25,200, down $3,579.58; highways, $707,758.90, down $198,633.25, and miscellaneous, $1,146,150.03, down $45,396.52.

Unchanged are planning and zoning commission, still $25,000, and sheriff only, still $5,800 including $1,000 expense money for hauling prisoners.

In anticipating their revenue for the fiscal year starting July 1, the county commissioners estimated conservatively that they would collect a total of $3,469,000 in county real estate taxes. They estimate $3,654,000 at $2.10 on each $100 of assessable property on an assessment of $174,000,000. Offsetting that will be about $175,000 in discounts for prompt payment and $10,000 off for insolvencies and erroneous assessments.

That $3,469,000 left represents about 61.4 per cent of the total income expected in the year.

The $3,469,000 to be collected from county taxes represents about 61.4 per cent of the total income expected in the year.

"Cushion" Again

Although the $174,000,000 assessable basis the county is using is $10,000,000 more than was applied a year ago, it still leaves a sizeable "cushion" to help swell the surplus for next year. County Commissioner John T. Mason said John T. Stitely, supervisor of assessments, has reported total assessments of $181,339,527. More will be added as semi-annual assessments are made on property which is virtually complete as of July 1.

Some 33 other sources of income are listed in the levy for the additional $2,185,141.78 for the county budget. Four of these items account for nearly 75 per cent of it. They include the estimated unexpended balance from the previous levy of $615,074.58; $469,380 from state motor vehicle and gasoline taxes, $227,000 in state incentive funds from the Board of Education for debt service and $205,000 in state income tax money.

Other estimated income includes $33,000, bank stock tax; $2,000 additionals and abatements; $5,000, interest on taxes; $4,000, admission taxes; state franchise tax, $2,500; state horse racing revenue, $42,000; anticipated federal aid for highways, $70,000; state distilled spirits tax, $61,000; recordation tax, $20,000; liquor licenses, $35,000; pin ball and music box licenses, $4,000; traders' licenses, $17,000; automobile license fees, $3,000; interest on investments, $30,000; automobile tax, $70,000; magistrates, $6,000; Peoples Court, $11,000; rents and concessions, $7,550; marriage licenses, $4,500; sheriff's fees, $1,500; tax assessment revenue, $21,262.20; dog licenses, $6,000; forest fires, $500; revenue from other agencies, $875; County Infirmary, $90,000; state insane hospitals, $6,000; state funds for patients in insane hospitals, $75,000; County Home, $15,000, and Sylvan Retreat, $25,000.

Suit Settled Out Of Court

A friendly damage suit in which the plaintiff sought $1,000 as the result of injuries sustained in a bicycle-car accident last year has been settled out of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Nine-year-old Joseph J. Taylor, through his mother, Pauline E. Meyers and his stepfather, James A Meyers, brought the suit against Robert S. Hyde of Shaft and Maynard C. Rogers and June M. Rogers, his wife, also of Shaft.

On August 23, 1960 Robert S. Hyde was operating an auto owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rogers on Shaft Road at the intersection with Linn Street.

The lad was riding a bicycle on Linn Street and was entering Shaft Road when the auto hit his bicycle and hurled him to the ground. He sustained a fractured leg, multiple contusions, lacerations and abrasions and other injuries and required hospital and medical care.

The plaintiff settled for $500 and costs, according to papers filed in court.

Some Refunds On Taxes May Be Taxable

Refunds or credits of state and local taxes, which were claimed as a deduction on a prior year's federal income tax return, generally constitute taxable income and must be reported on federal income tax returns in the year received.

Irving Machiz, district director of Internal Revenue, issued this reminder for Baltimore district taxpayers who have questioned the treatment of Maryland state and District of Columbia refunds or credits received during last year.

He noted, however, that where the taxpayer claimed the standard deduction in the prior year, he is not considered to have received a federal tax benefit from such payment in the prior year and need not report a subsequent refund or credit of state or local taxes paid.

Taxpayers who have taxable refunds or credits to report should list them in Schedule H of Form 1040, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." Forms 1040A and 1040W cannot be used for this purpose.

Mr. Machiz pointed out that the same rule generally applies in the case of subsequent refunds or reimbursements, by insurance or otherwise, of other deductible items such as medical expenses, casualty losses interest, etc.

Refunds or credits of federal taxes are not taxable income, and need not be reported on the tax return, but any interest received on local, state or federal returns is taxable income.

Acts Confuse

Thomas B. Finan will be asked for an opinion to clarify the situation.

It appears certain that the county commissioners will wind up the next fiscal year June 30, 1962, with a tremendous surplus if all of the additional $551,205 in state aid is to be retained in the county general fund for the entire year. The county's surplus when the levy was set up yesterday amounted to $615,074.58. Conceivably, it could go above $1,000,000 a year hence.

In approving the 10-cent reduction in the county tax rate and the levy list, the county commissioners divided the expenditures into 20 different accounts. Thirteen of these 20 are being increased a total of more than $300,000. On the other hand four are being lowered a total of over $290,000. Two others remain unchanged and the sanitary and waste removal budget of $39,150 is a new item.

That new figure for sanitary and waste removal accounts for nearly 80 per cent of the net increase in the budget of $51,605.05. Total expenditures for the current fiscal year are $5,602,536.73 compared with $5,654,141.78 in the upcoming 12 months.

13 Budgets Higher

The following departmental budgets are higher in the forthcoming fiscal year:

Legislative and executive, $27,950, up $2,606; judicial, $126,225.40, up $9,707.80; elections, $39,537, up $2,376; finance, $156,768, up $37,056.90; law, $7,000, up $1,000; public safety, $37,573.40, up $2,155; conservation of health, $104,188, up $15,892.04; hospital, $329,106.90, up $25,846.83; public welfare, $465,277.20, up $25,868.56; corrections, $51,337.25, up $3,224.34; schools, $2,187,684, up $169,771; recreation (county library), $40,000, up $6,400; public service, $37,689, up $360.

Buildings, $94,746.70, down $43,200.07; other protection, $25,200, down $3,579.58; highways, $707,758.90, down $198,633.25, and miscellaneous, $1,146,150.03, down $45,396.52.

Unchanged are planning and zoning commission, still $25,000, and sheriff only, still $5,800 including $1,000 expense money for hauling prisoners.

In anticipating their revenue for the fiscal year starting July 1, the county commissioners estimated conservatively that they would collect a total of $3,469,000 in county real estate taxes. They estimate $3,654,000 at $2.10 on each $100 of assessable property on an assessment of $174,000,000. Offsetting that will be about $175,000 in discounts for prompt payment and $10,000 off for insolvencies and erroneous assessments.

That $3,469,000 left represents about 61.4 per cent of the total income expected in the year.

The $3,469,000 to be collected from county taxes represents about 61.4 per cent of the total income expected in the year.

"Cushion" Again

Although the $174,000,000 assessable basis the county is using is $10,000,000 more than was applied a year ago, it still leaves a sizeable "cushion" to help swell the surplus for next year. County Commissioner John T. Mason said John T. Stitely, supervisor of assessments, has reported total assessments of $181,339,527. More will be added as semi-annual assessments are made on property which is virtually complete as of July 1.

Some 33 other sources of income are listed in the levy for the additional $2,185,141.78 for the county budget. Four of these items account for nearly 75 per cent of it. They include the estimated unexpended balance from the previous levy of $615,074.58; $469,380 from state motor vehicle and gasoline taxes, $227,000 in state incentive funds from the Board of Education for debt service and $205,000 in state income tax money.

Other estimated income includes $33,000, bank stock tax; $2,000 additionals and abatements; $5,000, interest on taxes; $4,000, admission taxes; state franchise tax, $2,500; state horse racing revenue, $42,000; anticipated federal aid for highways, $70,000; state distilled spirits tax, $61,000; recordation tax, $20,000; liquor licenses, $35,000; pin ball and music box licenses, $4,000; traders' licenses, $17,000; automobile license fees, $3,000; interest on investments, $30,000; automobile tax, $70,000; magistrates, $6,000; Peoples Court, $11,000; rents and concessions, $7,550; marriage licenses, $4,500; sheriff's fees, $1,500; tax assessment revenue, $21,262.20; dog licenses, $6,000; forest fires, $500; revenue from other agencies, $875; County Infirmary, $90,000; state insane hospitals, $6,000; state funds for patients in insane hospitals, $75,000; County Home, $15,000, and Sylvan Retreat, $25,000.

Suit Settled Out Of Court

A friendly damage suit in which the plaintiff sought $1,000 as the result of injuries sustained in a bicycle-car accident last year has been settled out of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Nine-year-old Joseph J. Taylor, through his mother, Pauline E. Meyers and his stepfather, James A. Meyers, brought the suit against Robert S. Hyde of Shaft and Maynard C. Rogers and June M. Rogers, his wife, also of Shaft.

On August 23, 1960 Robert S. Hyde was operating an auto owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rogers on Shaft Road at the intersection with Linn Street.

The lad was riding a bicycle on Linn Street and was entering Shaft Road when the auto hit his bicycle and hurled him to the ground. He sustained a fractured leg, multiple contusions, lacerations and abrasions and other injuries and required hospital and medical care.

The plaintiff settled for $500 and costs, according to papers filed in court.

School Data Requested By Commissioners

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners has requested certain information on schools from the Board of Education in connection with the pending issuance of $5,000,000 in bonds for school construction.

In a letter to J. Goodloe Jackson, Board of Education president, the commissioners said they have not received a copy of the enabling act (HB-807) for the purpose of construction, expanding, renovating and altering certain schools but in anticipation of issuance of the bonds to proceed, the county wanted the following information:

1. How many pupils are in attendance in each of the schools of the county at the present time?

2. What is the number of classrooms in each of the county schools at the present time? In this connection, the commissioners request that the board designate the number of rooms that are used on a full time basis for instruction and the number that are used on a parttime basis for specialized instruction.

3. What is the amount of square feet of floor space in each of the schools in use at the present time?

4. The average number of pupils per classroom per school in the high schools and in the primary grades in the county.

The commissioners said they wanted further amplification of conditions existing in those schools which the Board of Education deems to be overcrowded or inadequate at the present time and a justification for a need for further construction to alleviate such conditions that exist.

STATE ROAD BONDS

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Bids will be opened April 12 by the State Treasurer on $1 million in West Virginia road bonds. The bonds are being sold under the so - called 1920 "good roads" amendment which allows a bonded indebtedness of $50 million. It now stands at $48.5 million.

Teacher Is Candidate In Election

Miss Mary E. Murray, a member of the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, is a candidate for election to the office of second vice president of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

The balloting by mail is under way all over the state and prior to the voting the Allegany County Teachers Association and the FSTC faculty conducted a campaign in her behalf.

Endorsements by the ACTA and the faculty were sent to all county teachers associations.

Miss Murray has been active in MSTA affairs. She is a member-at-large of the state executive board; and is on the advisory council, leadership training staff and the advisory and legislative committees.

A former member of the faculty of Allegany High School where she also was advisor for the school newspaper, The Alcohi Mirror, she was the founder of the Maryland Scholastic Press Association.

Two trucks and 12 men of the Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company answered a call to a home six miles north of the state line in Bedford County Sunday night.

They found a flue fire in the residence of Owen Christman. Damage was confined to several chairs and a small table, according to Fire Chief Fred Purnell.

Kitzmiller Man Hurt In Auto Crash

A Kitzmiller man was critically injured in a two-car accident Monday night near Oakland.

Admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital was Harold G. Phillips, 31, who sustained severe lacerations of his face and scalp and internal injuries. His condition is reported "satisfactory."

Trooper R. B. Cave of the State Police said the accident occurred at 10 p. m. on U. S. Route 219, five miles north of Oakland.

Police said Phillips was operating his car southbound on the highway when he was apparently blinded by the headlights of a parked car owned by Kenneth H. Peck, 22, of Star Route, Oakland.

Authorities said Peck had parked his vehicle northbound on the shoulder of the roadway. The Phillips car crossed the center lane and rammed into Peck's auto. Peck was not injured.

Police, Firemen Join Health Club

One hundred twenty members of the Cumberland Police and Fire Departments have been enrolled in the Central YMCA Health Club as part of a new physical fitness program, Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming announced yesterday.

Fleming said the move is aimed at improving the health and general physical condition of the men. All but three members of the two departments — and they are near retirement age—signed enrollment cards, Fleming said.

The men will participate in the Health Club program on their own time. All will be "weighed in" at the start of this effort and records kept not only of attendance but statistics of weight loss or gain.

Full facilities of the Health Club and its equipment, including the steam room, will be available. In addition, the men will also use the YMCA gymnasium and swimming pool.

Fleming said he had been thinking in terms of a physical fitness program for the departments for some time and the plan was brought to reality after initial meetings with YMCA and Health Club officials. Fleming said many benefits are to be gained from the program and certainly physical fitness is necessary for the job done by police and firemen.

Fleming said groundwork for the program was laid by Officers John Daum, John Powers and James Morris.

Later, it is hoped to work a judo instruction class into the program if a qualified teacher can be obtained, the commissioner added.

After meetings with Robert M. Williams, general YMCA secretary, a group rate was established for the departments which will be paid from department funds, Fleming said.

Earl M. Nonnenmann, YMCA president, and Hal D. Barber, Health Club chairman, welcomed the new members into the physical program and fellowship of the YMCA.

Neutrons generated by this "positive ion accelerator" help Shell scientists make fast chemical analyses for their continuous study of engine behavior and top performance.

BULLETIN:

Shell discloses the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell—and the remarkable things they do to give your car top performance

Super Shell gasoline, with 9 ingredients, is now at your dealer's. Today's formula contains cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate—a new, improved version of TCP. Read how this patented additive increases mileage, releases power, and helps your car give top performance.

TODAY, every Shell dealer in this area has remarkable Super Shell in his pumps.

A notice on each Super Shell pump promises you that this gasoline will give your car top performance.

Shell's scientists want you to know about the nine ingredients which make this promise possible.

#1 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Today's Super Shell now contains an even better version of this world-famous additive. Its chemical name is cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power; up to 17 extra miles per tankful; and can make spark plugs last up to twice as long.*

New TCP does this by neutralizing certain effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also from diverting your spark—a major cause of "missing."

#2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—a chemical substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

#3 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this high-octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—which took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds far better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: The engine in your car may frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7 at cruising speed. Think of this next time you are passing on the highway.

#4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

So they insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

#5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather.

Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

#6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

#7 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can stall your engine.

#8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A gum preventive does the trick.

#9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than 100-octane gasoline. Energy that shows up as mileage.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

These Shell scientists are studying an "engine of the future." This engine has a compression ratio of 12 to 1—higher than the highest compression engine now in production.

Miss Mary E. Murray, a member of the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, is a candidate for election to the office of second vice president of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

The balloting by mail is under way all over the state and prior to the voting the Allegany County Teachers Association and the FSTC faculty conducted a campaign in her behalf.

Endorsements by the ACTA and the faculty were sent to all county teachers associations.

Miss Murray has been active in MSTA affairs. She is a member-at-large of the state executive board; and is on the advisory council, leadership training staff and the advisory and legislative committees.

A former member of the faculty of Allegany High School where she also was advisor for the school newspaper, The Alcohi Mirror, she was the founder of the Maryland Scholastic Press Association.

Miss Murray is a former president of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, a national organization.

Two trucks and 12 men of the Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company answered a call to a home six miles north of the state line in Bedford County Sunday night.

They found a flue fire in the residence of Owen Christman. Damage was confined to several chairs and a small table, according to Fire Chief Fred Purnell.

Kitzmiller Man Hurt In Auto Crash

A Kitzmiller man was critically injured in a two-car accident Monday night near Oakland.

Admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital was Harold G. Phillips, 31, who sustained severe lacerations of his face and scalp and internal injuries. His condition is reported "satisfactory."

Trooper R. B. Cave of the State Police said the accident occurred at 10 p. m. on U. S. Route 219, five miles north of Oakland.

Police said Phillips was operating his car southbound on the highway when he was apparently blinded by the headlights of a parked car owned by Kenneth H. Peck, 22, of Star Route, Oakland.

Authorities said Peck had parked his vehicle northbound on the shoulder of the roadway. The Phillips car crossed the center lane and rammed into Peck's auto. Peck was not injured.

Police, Firemen Join Health Club

One hundred twenty members of the Cumberland Police and Fire Departments have been enrolled in the Central YMCA Health Club as part of a new physical fitness program, Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming announced yesterday.

Fleming said the move is aimed at improving the health and general physical condition of the men. All but three members of the two departments — and they are near retirement age—signed enrollment cards, Fleming said.

The men will participate in the Health Club program on their own time. All will be "weighed in" at the start of this effort and records kept not only of attendance but statistics of weight loss or gain.

Full facilities of the Health Club and its equipment, including the steam room, will be available. In addition, the men will also use the YMCA gymnasium and swimming pool.

Fleming said he had been thinking in terms of a physical fitness program for the departments for some time and the plan was brought to reality after initial meetings with YMCA and Health Club officials. Fleming said many benefits are to be gained from the program and certainly physical fitness is necessary for the job done by police and firemen.

Fleming said groundwork for the program was laid by Officers John Daum, John Powers and James Morris.

Later, it is hoped to work a judo instruction class into the program if a qualified teacher can be obtained, the commissioner added.

After meetings with Robert M. Williams, general YMCA secretary, a group rate was established for the departments which will be paid from department funds, Fleming said.

Earl M. Nonnenmann, YMCA president, and Hal D. Barber, Health Club chairman, welcomed the new members into the physical program and fellowship of the YMCA.

In the century before 1875, epidemic diseases reduced the Indians of Northwest America to about one-quarter of their original numbers.

BULLETIN:

Shell discloses the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell—and the remarkable things they do to give your car top performance

Super Shell gasoline, with 9 ingredients, is now at your dealer's. Today's formula contains cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate—a new, improved version of TCP. Read how this patented additive increases mileage, releases power, and helps your car give top performance.

TODAY, every Shell dealer in this area has remarkable Super Shell in his pumps.

A notice on each Super Shell pump promises you that this gasoline will give your car top performance.

Shell's scientists want you to know about the nine ingredients which make this promise possible.

#1 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Today's Super Shell now contains an even better version of this world-famous additive. Its chemical name is cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power; up to 17 extra miles per tankful; and can make spark plugs last up to twice as long.*

New TCP does this by neutralizing certain effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also from diverting your spark—a major cause of "missing."

#2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—a chemical substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

#3 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this high-octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—which took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds far better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: The engine in your car may frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7 at cruising speed. Think of this next time you are passing on the highway.

#4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

So they insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

#5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather.

Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

#6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

#7 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can stall your engine.

#8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A gum preventive does the trick.

#9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than 100-octane gasoline. Energy that shows up as mileage.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Railroad Decline Is Real Danger

It is widely conceded that there is no substitute for the railroads as the means of moving heavy loads over long distances. Yet the economic state of the rails is in such a descending phase that there is talk on the left of nationalizing them and saving them by tax subsidies.

Speaking about this problem James F. Oates, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S., which has substantial investments in rail securities, says nationalization of railroads would be followed by that of all other carriers. Then an increasingly socialistic government would go on to nationalization of more industries. Nationalization in other nations should serve as a warning to us.

In Canada, where a private enterprise railroad system competes with a national system, the private system has much the better of it in statistics relating to public services, operating costs and dividends. Then, too, not forgotten is World War I when U. S. rails were temporarily nationalized and the decline that followed.

U. S. rails are in difficulty because they cannot exist with high labor, tax and material costs in the presence of drastic government regulations on rates and other operational aspects.

Oates proposes for rail management greater freedom to set rates, and to abandon unprofitable services. He would bring other carriers under the same regulations the rails have, reduce government competition in such areas as the Military Air Transport Service, apply realistic depreciation rates to equipment and cancel the excise tax on passengers. Labor, government and management should cooperate to eliminate made-work labor rules.

If the nation is to escape the blight of public ownership of the rails, many or most of these proposals should be adopted. Otherwise, rail patrons eventually will be blaming the government for the transportation mess.

Do We Have Allies?

Step by step, Soviet Russia is proving to the United States that this country has no allies upon whom it can surely and absolutely depend. This is undoubtedly in the nature of the loose alliance which NATO and SEATO have established. It is also in the nature of the conduct of American foreign policy over the years.

For instance, no event that has occurred in recent years has been as damaging to Great Britain and France as Nasser's victory at Suez. Nasser sat tight and watched the United States pull him out of a hole. Then he became a positive neutralist; that is, he supports Soviet Russian policy. Does anyone assume that France has ever forgotten that?

Or is France forgetting that Algeria has been sapping the life blood of France and that the United States is as neutral between France and Algeria as Nasser is between the United States and Soviet Russia?

It was the United States that supported every anti-British movement in Asia; it was the United States which encouraged the natives to drive the Dutch out of Indonesia and the French out of Indo-China. We had adopted a rigid program of doctrinaire anti-colonialism, with the result that we have severely damaged our allies and paved the way for Soviet conquests. With what mien do we now turn to our allies to support our policy in Laos? It is much like the attitude of our allies in the United Nations who are refusing to pay their contributions to the handling of the Congo situation. They wonder why they should pay for our program in the Congo, carried out by Dag Hammarskjold, when there was no logical explanation for pushing the Belgians out of the Congo, just as there is no logical explanation for pushing the Portuguese out of Angola.

In a word, it is becoming very expensive to be an American ally. This was foreseen during the early days of the Marshall Plan and was widely discussed. Herbert Hoover's concept of "Fortress America" which offended all liberals makes more sense today than when it was first proposed.

President Kennedy's approach to the Laos question was correct. Soviet Russia is invading that area with the object of ultimately taking Cambodia, Malaya, and Thailand. Thus, the Soviet Universal State would move swiftly into the Indian Ocean from Southwest China and would thus make it very difficult, if not impossible to defend Formosa, the Philippines and Japan from Red Chinese aggression.

It is too often forgotten that we fought a war, costly in life and wealth, against Japan for seeking to establish a hegemony over precisely this territory. Why was it more evil to do this in 1941 than it is for Soviet Russia to do it in 1961? What has happened to the world during these 20 years that makes it so cowardly?

Perhaps the principal event that took the guts out of nations was the Korean War which the United States lost to Red China. As soon as we lost that war, every nation, particularly the small ones, had to review and reconsider its policy because a mighty power had been defeated by a weak and backward one. The very words seem silly but even a silliness can be a reality and the Korean War, fought without logic or logistics, was both silly and a reality. It gave the United States a bad name, particularly in Asia where defeat can never be explained away.

I was once associated with a Chinese Tuchun (Warlord) who was engaged in civil war. His name was Chi Shih-yuan and he was quite a competent man. But his Chief-of-Staff, looking at a new map, mistook a river for a road and he was stuck. That ended Tuchun Chi. He fled to Japan. He had not yet been defeated but he had lost face and what troops would be willing to follow a Warlord who had lost face?

This is characteristic of Asiatic tradition. Therefore when the United States lost face in Korea, we lost the respect of all those peoples. Today, they want guarantees of sincerity, of victory, of no turning back. Theodore Roosevelt believed that we should speak softly but carry a big stick. Since 1945, we have been bellowing through a megaphone but we have been carrying a swagger stick. Perhaps President Kennedy will change that.

Two Venezuelan Writers Criticize Pearson Articles About Country

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Considerable reaction has developed in Venezuela regarding my recent visit to that country. I have been kicked on the shins by the pro-Castro left and from tthe conservative right.

Congressman Fabricio Ojeda, who belongs to the pro-Castro political opposition to President Betancourt, wrote in El Nacional:

"You, Mr. Pearson, are mortgaged to the colonial interests. You are considered in North America part of the inventory of the large corporations whose owners are using you as their own belonging in defense of their interest and their evils.

"I am at the side of the Cuban Revolution and at the side of this embattled people. You should not be searching for armed intervention to liquidate Castro's Cuba."

On the other hand, the newspaper La Esfera, in a front-page editorial entitled "Drew Pearson and the Yankee Conspiracy," takes me to task for reporting that many American and Venezuelan businessmen yearned for the good old days of the Perez Jiminez dictatorship and were applying a financial freeze to the Democratic government of President Betancourt.

Pearson "Erred"

"Drew Pearson has been the victim of his journalistic zeal," writes La Esfera, "and the price of his excess is the offence which, directed against the petroleum companies, has at the same time affected equally all the North American residents in our country.

"Mr. Pearson went into the problem headlong. He wrote as a newspaperman but not as a good citizen of the United States who amongst other things could and should know the truth of the orientation and interests of the United States in so far as it refers to policy in this part of the world.

"We wish to welcome the declaration of distinguished members of the North American Association of Venezuela who have informed us that Mr. Pearson in his recent article published in this city said that petroleum companies were in favour of dictatorship because of the disagreements on points of the petroleum policy of the government . . .

"Mr. Pearson has erred as a journalist, and as an American. Also as a democrat."

Of course I could reply to both writers—flippantly—tha I am accustomed to criticism from both the right and the left and that if I am "mortgaged to the colonial interests," as Congressman Fabricio maintains, certainly the oil companies haven't looked in their safe deposit vaults recently to take stock of their mortgages.

But in more serious vein, I should like to point out, first, that the conflicting criticism of me demonstrates the complete freedom of the press which now exists under Betancourt which has not existed under dictatorships. Second, I should like to remind the business community that there is a very simple way to prove that I am wrong in reporting that they have the deep financial freeze on against the Betancourt government—namely, they can ease the ban on credits.

Financial credits to the Betancourt Government will automatically prove that the business community does not relish any return to the dictatorship and that it does want to encourage a democratic regime.

There Was A Freeze

At the time I was in Venezuela, however, I am certain, as a newspaperman who talked to all sorts of people, that the financial freeze was on, and that a nostalgic feeling for the dictatorship of the past did exist.

This does not apply to all American businessmen, nor to all Venezuelan business. I am certain that the Rockefeller family which dominates Standard Oil of N. J., does not want to encourage any return to the dictatorship. And I am certain that men like Eugenio Mendoza would fight a return to the dictatorship with their last dying breath.

But the proof of the political pudding is in the eating. And not one of the big oil companies, when I was in Venezuela, had anything but frowns for the Betancourt Administration's conduct of the Department of Minerals. And not one big bank or financial house had come forward with any material credit to help a democracy which is struggling to maintain a balance between the pro-Communist left and the pro-Fascist right.

Anguished Congressman

Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota, the Republican who keynoted the GOP National Convention in Chicago last year, was invited by the top Army brass to give a confidential talk on Communism at the War College at Fort McNair in Washington. Seventy of the Army's top generals turned out to hear Judd behind closed doors in expectation that they would get a penetrating diagnosis of how the Communists operate.

Instead, they got a political tirade against their Commander-in-Chief, John F. Kennedy.

The Congressman from Minnesota castigated Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson, and the Democrats in general, accused Kennedy of plotting to sell out the Chinese offshore islands — Quemoy and Matsu.

"England is another island," the Congressman shouted as if he were haranguing another Republican National Convention. "Maybe we will want to give England away too."

Judd is a former China missionary.

He charged that wage increases and tampering with the House Rules Committee are weakening America and helping Communism. This seemed to be about as close as he came to giving the inside story of how the Communists were operating, but he did boast that the late John Foster Dulles had told him there were only three defenders of America left—Nixon, Dulles, and Judd.

Judd did see one bright ray of hope, however—the appointment of a Republican as editor of the Harvard Crimson.

Laos Negotiation Will Be Superhuman Task

By Joseph Alsop

BANGKOK

Marshal Sarit Thanarat is the shrewd and powerful leader — more ward boss than dictator — of pro-Western Thailand. The fears which he rather openly avowed, both before and during the SEATO conference here, tell a very great deal about the post-conference situation.

Marshal Sarit's view of the Laos crisis is founded, to begin with, on the assumption that the U.S. is the only western power retaining an active interest in the fate of Southeast Asia. Both the British and French, he believes, lost interest in this region after the Geneva settlement ending the Indochina war in 1954.

The assumption is certainly sound. French officials on the spot, in Laos particularly, may seek to play a local political role. But this can have no purpose except to satisfy the egos of the officials concerned, since the role they have played runs counter to the real, long range interests of France.

As for the British, their basic attitude was revealed by the remarkable formula of a leading member of their delegation to SEATO, that "the Laos crisis was less an Asian problem than a problem of Anglo-American relations." In other words, the British regard concern about Laos as a kind of American maggot or mania, to which concessions must be made for the primary purpose of maintaining the Anglo-American partnership.

This attitude explains the Franco-British enthusiasm for a government of Laos headed by Prince Souvanna Phouma and including pro-Communists. The French officials on the scene like the idea, putting it rather crudely, because Prince Souvanna Phouma is polite to them. The British consider that the installation of such a government will be the easiest way of avoiding a dangerous Southeast Asian confrontation between the Soviet and the U.S.

In contrast, Marshal Sarit, like virtually all the American officials in this part of the world, believes that the installation of this kind of government in Laos will only be the first step in a broad advance of Communist influence and power in Southeast Asia. The Marshal was shocked, again like most American officials out here, by U.S. acceptance of the British scheme for opening negotiations about Laos with the Soviets. And he frankly fears that "British influence" will lead the U.S. to make fatally weak compromises when and if negotiations begin.

These fears of the Thai leaders were at least reduced by a long talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk during the SEATO meeting. Rusk had a good talking point in the form of President Kennedy's response to Prime Minister Macmillan's seeming hint that the U.S. had better go it alone in Laos with mere British moral support. At the resulting Key West meeting, although it has been denied, the President got a commitment from the Prime Minister to contribute the Commonwealth Brigade in Malay in the event intervention in Laos proved unavoidable.

All the same, Marshal Sarit is still reported to be gravely worried about the outcome in Laos—and with good reason. Anyone must be worried who realizes that Laos is the unfortunate key to the Southeast Asia future, and who also understands the basis on which we have undertaken to negotiate.

The proposed arena of negotiations is to be a fourteen nation conference including several "neutrals" and the Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists. The situation in Laos is to be policed by a Polish-Indian-Canadian control commission. In this commission the Indian member, perhaps a man like Rajeshwar Dayal in the Congo, will have the casting vote.

Above all, the position on the ground on Laos is already desperately unfavorable. The North Vietnamese and Laos Communists not only control the two northern provinces, Phongsaly and Samneua — which might be a manageable position. They also currently control the most important area of central Laos, Xiengkhouang Province including the Plaine des Jarres, and they hold at least one small base in the South.

Any settlement in Laos which leaves the Communists in control of so much territory will surely end in effective Communist control of Laos. So will any settlement which installs Prince Souvanna Phouma with Communists in important places in the supporting cast. Prince Souvanna alone can perhaps lead Laos down a truly neutral road. But the quite different results of a Souvanna-Communist regime can already be predicted, from the way Prince Souvanna dealt with the Leftists when he was last in power.

All these factors, and especially the position on the ground, will make any negotiations about Laos a task of almost superhuman difficulty. It can be taken for granted that Marshal Sarit is quite right in foreseeing that British influence will favor almost any compromise. And this will increase the difficulty.

The best hope lies in the fact that Nikita S. Khrushchev was the first to say what Dean Rusk also said here, that an "Austrian" style settlement was needed in Laos. But it is hard to see how this kind of settlement can ever be secured unless President Kennedy rather ostentatiously shows continuing willingness to keep his powder dry.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

COLD WAR — White House experts believe the only Cold War course possible for the U. S. is a holding operation until America and her allies can build up sufficient military and economic power to convince the Russians—and the Red Chinese—that their own aspirations can be achieved by peace rather than war.

This is the backdrop for the negotiations which the Kennedy administration has undertaken with the Russians on a permanent atomic weapons test ban. It also is the one reality behind continuing efforts to devise a formula for arms control.

Neither of these objectives are attainable at this time, and Washington observers know it. Both inside and outside of government, however, there is a conviction that negotiations must be kept open, despite all frustrations.

Russia has used many gambits to try to wheedle or trick concessions out of Washington. Currently, it is using a new one — the idea that Premier Khrushchev is in trouble with some of the elements in his own country, and must win some tangible concessions from the West in order to retain power and prevent the much tougher "Stalinist" faction from regaining control.

Intelligence reports to Washington show that Soviet diplomats in all the Western capitals, including Washington, are pushing this latest line as hard as possible.

But the administration is aware of this intended trap, and is determined not to fall into it. Some top observers point out that never in recent Russian history have diplomats been willing to talk about difficulties in the Kremlin while they were occurring. In fact, during past Kremlin crises Soviet diplomats have been so intent on not risking their own necks that they would shy away from the slightest trend toward such discussion.

As this approach fails, and it will, you can expect something harsh from Khrushchev, to demonstrate the fact of his own secure leadership. The Kennedy administration doesn't know what form this will take, but it is steeled for the event.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The Chillingworth murder trial, in Fort Pierce, Florida, was a fair example of what happens on most big stories. The reporters work together by day, and play together at night. As a group, they are snobbish peasants, suspicious of counsel on both sides, and gifted with snide asides about the trial and the town.

No matter how late the hour, they headed for Tomlinson's Colonial Restaurant or the St. Lucie Country Club for bourbon and steaks. As soon as the last page of the last story had been filed, they came alive and nobody was ready for bed.

A few were quiet people, almost like citizens. Ben Funk of the Associated Press, a big crew cut in horn-rimmed glasses, a lipless man with a big grin, was one. He's the kind who listens and remembers everything. Frank Ward, the TWX machine operator from the New York Daily News, was another. Bill Tucker of the Miami News was always looking for a fresh angle.

The rest—Bill Mullin of the Fort Lauderdale News, a reformed redhead from Buffalo; Andy Taylor of United Press International, the man with the boyish grin; Theo Wilson, of the News, 85 pounds of strained Brooklyn; Tom Cope, of the Fort Pierce News Tribune, and a few others, were the hoydens.

When the day's work is done, there is a left-handed disdain in the group. The reporters want to relax, and laugh. We were talking juries one night, and agreeing that no one could predict what a jury will do, and Miss Wilson said that she once covered a trial where the jury could agree on nothing.

"One day the judge ordered the bailiff to take them out to lunch and he said h couldn't. The judge said for God's sake why? And the bailiff said five of them want Chinese food and seven want pizza. They can't even agree on what to eat."

We kidded about the gruesome murders, too. Andy Taylor said that Bobbie Lincoln, the Negro moonshiner, was going to buy an excursion boat when he got out of jail and conduct moonlight trips to the Chillingworth home. Mullin said that P. O. Wilber, the between-the-covers undercover agent, would punch the excursion tickets with a .38.

It's fatigue humor. Everyone is tired and laughs too easily. One Saturday afternoon the judge declared an early recess and the reporters hurried into their bathing suits and sat around the pool at the Southernaire.

I watched for two hours and saw no one get into the water. They looked good in their bathing suits; Miss Wilson wa the only one who didn't dare to dive. She'd have come out through the top. The other held glasses clinking with ice, and the laughter was loud and ribald.

Andy Taylor was bent double laughing at something when he looked up and saw Mrs. Taylor standing beside him. "So this," she said, "is the difficult work of a trial." The rest of the group surrounded Mrs. Taylor and, in a few minutes, she was in the mood.

Every morning, Mrs. Jenkins called all reporters at 7:30. The showers hissed, the writers muttered and stumbled, and Mrs. Jenkins served free coffee to all. Breakfast sometimes consisted of Bloody Marys and brandied eggs. At 8:45, dull and deal, all hands were in court trying to sharpen pencils and wits.

Cope was the poet of the group, and the Latin scholar, too. Ann Wilder was the regal lady. Bill Tucker of the Miami News was the digger. When the trial was over, all of us felt a little sheepish, saying farewell, because there is a cameraderie among reporters which is not matched in any other profession.

On the day the jury went out, the reporters delivered a signed scroll of admiration to Judge D. C. Smith. He was pleased, and he promised to let us know when the jury came in. He forgot. So I went to the bench and said: "We want the diploma back."

"I'm running out of patience," he said. "Motion denied." . . .

Wonder Drugs And Some Odd Side-Effects

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many valuable drugs may produce a variety of toxic reactions, varying from an upset stomach to a skin eruption. Some products are extremely selective in their misbehavior. It is surprising how often the ear is affected. In addition, one drug may affect one part of the ear whereas others concentrate on a different part.

Streptomycin and its sister drug, dihydrostreptomycin, are notorious offenders along this line. The latter may impair hearing and destroy the balancing mechanism located in the center of the ear. Streptomycin may do the same but seems to concentrate more on the vestibule of the ear, which is one of the important pathways for sound.

These antibiotics are used largely in the treatment of tuberculosis and toxic signs seldom develop unless large amounts have been prescribed. Exceptions occur in that some persons are more susceptible than others.

One physician who treated tubercular patients with these drugs found that the intravenous administration of thiamine prevents hearing loss and even improves hearing. The ears are tested frequently and thiamine is started as soon as changes are noted. The antituberculosis drugs are discontinued should the person develop pain, dizziness, head noises, or hearing loss.

Other mycins, such as neomycin, may cause deafness when taken orally but not when administered as eardrops.

The toxic effects of overdosage of quinine and, to a lesser extent, aspirin, are the well known ringing of the ears, dizziness, and deafness. These symptoms are temporary, even when massive doses are taken, as hearing returns in 24 to 36 hours. Quinine and aspirin and other salicylates increase the secretion of the fluids of the labyrinth of the ear, which leads to dizziness and hearing loss.

Railroad Decline Is Real Danger

It is widely conceded that there is no substitute for the railroads as the means of moving heavy loads over long distances. Yet the economic state of the rails is in such a descending phase that there is talk on the left of nationalizing them and saving them by tax subsidies.

Speaking about this problem James F. Oates, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S., which has substantial investments in rail securities, says nationalization of railroads would be followed by that of all other carriers. Then an increasingly socialistic government would go on to nationalization of more industries. Nationalization in other nations should serve as a warning to us.

In Canada, where a private enterprise railroad system competes with a national system, the private system has much the better of it in statistics relating to public services, operating costs and dividends. Then, too, not forgotten is World War I when U. S. rails were temporarily nationalized and the decline that followed.

U. S. rails are in difficulty because they cannot exist with high labor, tax and material costs in the presence of drastic government regulations on rates and other operational aspects.

Oates proposes for rail management greater freedom to set rates, and to abandon unprofitable services. He would bring other carriers under the same regulations the rails have, reduce government competition in such areas as the Military Air Transport Service, apply realistic depreciation rates to equipment and cancel the excise tax on passengers. Labor, government and management should cooperate to eliminate made-work labor rules.

If the nation is to escape the blight of public ownership of the rails, many or most of these proposals should be adopted. Otherwise, rail patrons eventually will be blaming the government for the transportation mess.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Do We Have Allies?

Step by step, Soviet Russia is proving to the United States that this country has no allies upon whom it can surely and absolutely depend. This is undoubtedly in the nature of the loose alliance which NATO and SEATO have established. It is also in the nature of the conduct of American foreign policy over the years.

For instance, no event that has occurred in recent years has been as damaging to Great Britain and France as Nasser's victory at Suez. Nasser sat tight and watched the United States pull him out of a hole. Then he became a positive neutralist; that is, he supports Soviet Russian policy. Does anyone assume that France has ever forgotten that?

Or is France forgetting that Algeria has been sapping the life blood of France and that the United States is as neutral between France and Algeria as Nasser is between the United States and Soviet Russia?

It was the United States that supported every anti-British movement in Asia; it was the United States which encouraged the natives to drive the Dutch out of Indonesia and the French out of Indo-China. We had adopted a rigid program of doctrinaire arti-colonialism, with the result that we have severely damaged our allies and paved the way for Soviet conquests. With what mien do we now turn to our allies to support our policy in Laos? It is much like the attitude of our allies in the United Nations who are refusing to pay their contributions to the handling of the Congo situation. They wonder why they should pay for our program in the Congo, carried out by Dag Hammarskjold, when there was no logical explanation for pushing the Belgians out of the Congo, just as there is no logical explanation for pushing the Portuguese out of Angola.

In a word, it is becoming very expensive to be an American ally. This was foreseen during the early days of the Marshall Plan and was widely discussed. Herbert Hoover's concept of "Fortress America" which offended all liberals makes more sense today than when it was first proposed.

President Kennedy's approach to the Laos question was correct. Soviet Russia is invading that area with the object of ultimately taking Cambodia, Malaya, and Thailand. Thus, the Soviet Universal State would move swiftly into the Indian Ocean from Southwest China and would thus make it very difficult, if not impossible to defend Formosa, the Philippines and Japan from Red Chinese aggression.

It is too often forgotten that we fought a war, costly in life and wealth, against Japan for seeking to establish a hegemony over precisely this territory. Why was it more evil to do this in 1941 than it is for Soviet Russia to do it in 1961? What has happened to the world during these 20 years that makes it so cowardly?

Perhaps the principal event that took the guts out of nations was the Korean War which the United States lost to Red China. As soon as we lost that war, every nation, particularly the small ones, had to review and reconsider its policy because a mighty power had been defeated by a weak and backward one. The very words seem silly but even a silliness can be a reality and the Korean War, fought without logic or logistics, was both silly and a reality. It gave the United States a bad name, particularly in Asia where defeat can never be explained away.

I was once associated with a Chinese Tuchun (Warlord) who was engaged in civil war. His name was Chi Shih-yuan and he was quite a competent man. But his Chief-of-Staff, looking at a new map, mistook a river for a road and he was stuck. That ended Tuchun Chi. He fled to Japan. He had not yet been defeated but he had lost face and what troops would be willing to follow a Warlord who had lost face?

This is characteristic of Asiatic tradition. Therefore when the United States lost face in Korea, we lost the respect of all those peoples. Today, they want guarantees of sincerity, of victory, of no turning back. Theodore Roosevelt believed that we should speak softly but carry a big stick. Since 1945, we have been bellowing through a megaphone but we have been carrying a swagger stick. Perhaps President Kennedy will change that.

Laos Negotiation Will Be Superhuman Task

By Joseph Alsop

BANGKOK

Marshal Sarit Thanarat is the shrewd and powerful leader — more ward boss than dictator — of pro-Western Thailand. The fears which he rather openly avowed, both before and during the SEATO conference here, tell a very great deal about the post-conference situation.

Marshal Sarit's view of the Laos crisis is founded, to begin with, on the assumption that the U.S. is the only western power retaining an active interest in the fate of Southeast Asia. Both the British and French, he believes, lost interest in this region after the Geneva settlement ending the Indochina war in 1954.

The assumption is certainly sound. French officials on the spot, in Laos particularly, may seek to play a local political role. But this can have no purpose except to satisfy the egos of the officials concerned, since the role they have played runs counter to the real, long range interests of France.

As for the British, their basic attitude was revealed by the remarkable formula of a leading member of their delegation to SEATO, that "the Laos crisis was less an Asian problem than a problem of Anglo-American relations." In other words, the British regard concern about Laos as a kind of American maggot or mania, to which concessions must be made for the primary purpose of maintaining the Anglo-American partnership.

This attitude explains the Franco-British enthusiasm for a government of Laos headed by Prince Souvanna Phouma and including pro-Communists. The French officials on the scene like the idea, putting it rather crudely, because Prince Souvanna Phouma is polite to them. The British consider that the installation of such a government will be the easiest way of avoiding a dangerous Southeast Asian confrontation between the Soviet and the U.S.

In contrast, Marshal Sarit, like virtually all the American officials in this part of the world, believes that the installation of this kind of government in Laos will only be the first step in a broad advance of Communist influence and power in Southeast Asia. The Marshal was shocked, again like most American officials out here, by U.S. acceptance of the British scheme for opening negotiations about Laos with the Soviets. And he frankly fears that "British influence" will lead the U.S. to make fatally weak compromises when and if negotiations begin.

These fears of the Thai leaders were at least reduced by a long talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk during the SEATO meeting. Rusk had a good talking point in the form of President Kennedy's response to Prime Minister Macmillan's seeming hint that the U.S. had better go it alone in Laos with mere British moral support. At the resulting Key West meeting, although it has been denied, the President got a commitment from the Prime Minister to contribute the Commonwealth Brigade in Malay in the event intervention in Laos proved unavoidable.

All the same, Marshal Sarit is still reported to be gravely worried about the outcome in Laos—and with good reason. Anyone must be worried who realizes that Laos is the unfortunate key to the Southeast Asia future, and who also understands the basis on which we have undertaken to negotiate.

The proposed arena of negotiations is to be a fourteen nation conference including several "neutrals" and the Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists. The situation in Laos is to be policed by a Polish-Indian-Canadian control commission. In this commission the Indian member, perhaps a man like Rajeshwar Dayal in the Congo, will have the casting vote.

Above all, the position on the ground on Laos is already desperately unfavorable. The North Vietnamese and Laos Communists not only control the two northern provinces, Phongsaly and Samneua — which might be a manageable position. They also currently control the most important area of central Laos, Xiengkhouang Province including the Plaine des Jarres, and they hold at least one small base in the South.

Any settlement in Laos which leaves the Communists in control of so much territory will surely end in effective Communist control of Laos. So will any settlement which installs Prince Souvanna Phouma with Communists in important places in the supporting cast. Prince Souvanna alone can perhaps lead Laos down a truly neutral road. But the quite different results of a Souvanna-Communist regime can already be predicted, from the way Prince Souvanna dealt with the Leftists when he was last in power.

All these factors, and especially the position on the ground, will make any negotiations about Laos a task of almost superhuman difficulty. It can be taken for granted that Marshal Sarit is quite right in foreseeing that British influence will favor almost any compromise. And this will increase the difficulty.

The best hope lies in the fact that Nikita S. Khrushchev was the first to say what Dean Rusk also said here, that an "Austrian" style settlement was needed in Laos. But it is hard to see how this kind of settlement can ever be secured unless President Kennedy rather ostentatiously shows continuing willingness to keep his powder dry.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

COLD WAR — White House experts believe the only Cold War course possible for the U. S. is a holding operation until America and her allies can build up sufficient military and economic power to convince the Russians—and the Red Chinese—that their own aspirations can be achieved by peace rather than war.

This is the backdrop for the negotiations which the Kennedy administration has undertaken with the Russians on a permanent atomic weapons test ban. It also is the one reality behind continuing efforts to devise a formula for arms control.

Neither of these objectives are attainable at this time, and Washington observers know it. Both inside and outside of government, however, there is a conviction that negotiations must be kept open, despite all frustrations.

Russia has used many gambits to try to wheedle or trick concessions out of Washington. Currently, it is using a new one — the idea that Premier Khrushchev is in trouble with some of the elements in his own country, and must win some tangible concessions from the West in order to retain power and prevent the much tougher "Stalinist" faction from regaining control.

Intelligence reports to Washington show that Soviet diplomats in all the Western capitals, including Washington, are pushing this latest line as hard as possible.

But the administration is aware of this intended trap, and is determined not to fall into it. Some top observers point out that never in recent Russian history have diplomats been willing to talk about difficulties in the Kremlin while they were occurring. In fact, during past Kremlin crises Soviet diplomats have been so intent on not risking their own necks that they would shy away from the slightest trend toward such discussion.

As this approach fails, and it will, you can expect something harsh from Khrushchev, to demonstrate the fact of his own secure leadership. The Kennedy administration doesn't know what form this will take, but it is steeled for the event.

Two Venezuelan Writers Criticize Pearson Articles About Country

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Considerable reaction has developed in Venezuela regarding my recent visit to that country. I have been kicked on the shins by the pro-Castro left and from tthe conservative right.

Congressman Fabricio Ojeda, who belongs to the pro-Castro political opposition to President Betancourt, wrote in El Nacional:

"You, Mr. Pearson, are mortgaged to the colonial interests. You are considered in North America part of the inventory of the large corporations whose owners are using you as their own belonging in defense of their interest and their evils.

"I am at the side of the Cuban Revolution and at the side of this embattled people. You should not be searching for armed intervention to liquidate Castro's Cuba."

On the other hand, the newspaper La Esfera, in a front-page editorial entitled "Drew Pearson and the Yankee Conspiracy," takes me to task for reporting that many American and Venezuelan businessmen yearned for the good old days of the Perez Jiminez dictatorship and were applying a financial freeze to the Democratic government of President Betancourt.

Pearson "Erred"

"Drew Pearson has been the victim of his journalistic zeal," writes La Esfera, "and the price of his excess is the offence which, directed against the petroleum companies, has at the same time affected equally all the North American residents in our country.

"Mr. Pearson went into the problem headlong. He wrote as a newspaperman but not as a good citizen of the United States who amongst other things could and should know the truth of the orientation and interests of the United States in so far as it refers to policy in this part of the world.

"We wish to welcome the declaration of distinguished members of the North American Association of Venezuela who have informed us that Mr. Pearson in his recent article published in this city said that petroleum companies were in favour of dictatorship because of the disagreements on points of the petroleum policy of the government . . .

"Mr. Pearson has erred as a journalist, and as an American. Also as a democrat."

Of course I could reply to both writers—flippantly—that I am accustomed to criticism from both the right and the left and that if I am "mortgaged to the colonial interests," as Congressman Fabricio maintains, certainly the oil companies haven't looked in their safe deposit vaults recently to take stock of their mortgages.

But in more serious vein, I should like to point out, first, that the conflicting criticism of me demonstrates the complete freedom of the press which now exists under Betancourt which has not existed under dictatorships. Second, I should like to remind the business community that there is a very simple way to prove that I am wrong in reporting that they have the deep financial freeze on against the Betancourt government—namely, they can ease the ban on credits.

Financial credits to the Betancourt Government will automatically prove that the business community does not relish any return to the dictatorship and that it does want to encourage a democratic regime.

There Was A Freeze

At the time I was in Venezuela, however, I am certain, as a newspaperman who talked to all sorts of people, that the financial freeze was on, and that a nostalgic feeling for the dictatorship of the past did exist.

This does not apply to all American businessmen, nor to all Venezuelan business. I am certain that the Rockefeller family which dominates Standard Oil of N. J., does not want to encourage any return to the dictatorship. And I am certain that men like Eugenio Mendoza would fight a return to the dictatorship with their last dying breath.

But the proof of the political pudding is in the eating. And not one of the big oil companies, when I was in Venezuela, had anything but frowns for the Betancourt Administration's conduct of the Department of Minerals. And not one big bank or financial house had come forward with any material credit to help a democracy which is struggling to maintain a balance between the pro-Communist left and the pro-Fascist right.

Anguished Congressman

Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota, the Republican who keynoted the GOP National Convention in Chicago last year, was invited by the top Army brass to give a confidential talk on Communism at the War College at Fort McNair in Washington. Seventy of the Army's top generals turned out to hear Judd behind closed doors in expectation that they would get a penetrating diagnosis of how the Communists operate.

Instead, they got a political tirade against their Commander-in-Chief, John F. Kennedy.

The Congressman from Minnesota castigated Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson, and the Democrats in general, accused Kennedy of plotting to sell out the Chinese offshore islands — Quemoy and Matsu.

"England is another island," the Congressman shouted as if he were haranguing another Republican National Convention. "Maybe we will want to give England away too."

Judd is a former China missionary.

He charged that wage increases and tampering with the House Rules Committee are weakening America and helping Communism. This seemed to be about as close as he came to giving the inside story of how the Communists were operating, but he did boast that the late John Foster Dulles had told him there were only three defenders of America left—Nixon, Dulles, and Judd.

Judd did see one bright ray of hope, however—the appointment of a Republican as editor of the Harvard Crimson.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The Chillingworth murder trial, in Fort Pierce, Florida, was a fair example of what happens on most big stories. The reporters work together by day, and play together at night. As a group, they are snobbish peasants, suspicious of counsel on both sides, and gifted with snide asides about the trial and the town.

No matter how late the hour, they headed for Tomlinson's Colonial Restaurant or the St. Lucie Country Club for bourbon and steaks. As soon as the last page of the last story had been filed, they came alive and nobody was ready for bed.

A few were quiet people, almost like citizens. Ben Funk of the Associated Press, a big crew cut in horn-rimmed glasses, a lipless man with a big grin, was one. He's the kind who listens and remembers everything. Frank Ward, the TWX machine operator from the New York Daily News, was another. Bill Tucker of the Miami News was always looking for a fresh angle.

The rest—Bill Mullin of the Fort Lauderdale News, a reformed redhead from Buffalo; Andy Taylor of United Press International, the man with the boyish grin; Theo Wilson, of the News, 85 pounds of strained Brooklyn; Tom Cope, of the Fort Pierce News Tribune, and a few others, were the hoydens.

When the day's work is done, there is a left-handed disdain in the group. The reporters want to relax, and laugh. We were talking juries one night, and agreeing that no one could predict what a jury will do, and Miss Wilson said that she once covered a trial where the jury could agree on nothing.

"One day the judge ordered the bailiff to take them out to lunch and he said h couldn't. The judge said for God's sake why? And the bailiff said five of them want Chinese food and seven want pizza. They can't even agree on what to eat."

We kidded about the gruesome murders, too. Andy Taylor said that Bobbie Lincoln, the Negro moonshiner, was going to buy an excursion boat when he got out of jail and conduct moonlight trips to the Chillingworth home. Mullin said that P. O. Wilber, the between-the-covers undercover agent, would punch the excursion tickets with a .38.

It's fatigue humor. Everyone is tired and laughs too easily. One Saturday afternoon the judge declared an early recess and the reporters hurried into their bathing suits and sat around the pool at the Southernaire.

I watched for two hours and saw no one get into the water. They looked good in their bathing suits; Miss Wilson was the only one who didn't dare to dive. She'd have come out through the top. The other held glasses clinking with ice, and the laughter was loud and ribald.

Andy Taylor was bent double laughing at something when he looked up and saw Mrs. Taylor standing beside him. "So this," she said, "is the difficult work of a trial." The rest of the group surrounded Mrs. Taylor and, in a few minutes, she was in the mood.

Every morning, Mrs. Jenkins called all reporters at 7:30. The showers hissed, the writers muttered and stumbled, and Mrs. Jenkins served free coffee to all. Breakfast sometimes consisted of Bloody Marys and brandied eggs. At 8:45, dull and deal, all hands were in court trying to sharpen pencils and wits.

Cope was the poet of the group, and the Latin scholar, too. Ann Wilder was the regal lady. Bill Tucker of the Miami News was the digger. When the trial was over, all of us felt a little sheepish, saying farewell, because there is a cameraderie among reporters which is not matched in any other profession.

On the day the jury went out, the reporters delivered a signed scroll of admiration to Judge D. C. Smith. He was pleased, and he promised to let us know when the jury came in. He forgot. So I went to the bench and said: "We want the diploma back."

"I'm running out of patience," he said. "Motion denied." . . .

Wonder Drugs And Some Odd Side-Effects

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many valuable drugs may produce a variety of toxic reactions, varying from an upset stomach to a skin eruption. Some products are extremely selective in their misbehavior. It is surprising how often the ear is affected. In addition, one drug may affect one part of the ear whereas others concentrate on a different part.

Streptomycin and its sister drug, dihydrostreptomycin, are notorious offenders along this line. The latter may impair hearing and destroy the balancing mechanism located in the center of the ear. Streptomycin may do the same but seems to concentrate more on the vestibule of the ear, which is one of the important pathways for sound.

Mt. Savage Cub Scouts Name Pine Derby Winners

MT. SAVAGE—Pack 50, Cub Scouts held its Pinewood Derby in St. George's parish hall with 17 scouts and fathers participating in the preliminaries and final heats.

Winners are John Harr and father, Harry, first place; Dale Sweene and father, Donald, second place; and George Rice and father, Howard, third place.

These boys will compete in the district races at Constitution Park on May 16. Committeemen who served on this event are Charles Hice, Rev. William E. McGrew, Stanley Turley, Harry Long and Stewart Church.

Harry Long cubmaster and Stewart Church, assistant cubmaster, conducted a bobcat induction ceremony at the March pack meeting. Bobcats Mark Growden and Robert Connor repeated the Cub Scout Promise and their fathers, Frances Growden and Leon Connor each repeated the parents' promise to help his son in the Cub Scout program. Each boy of the pack placed a clothespin on the step of the Advancement Ladder denoting his present rank in the pack.

The following persons pinned awards on Cub Scouts who then advanced their clothes pins to the proper rung of the ladder: Fern Neder, den mother of Den 3, for James Smith, wolf; Ward Voit for son, James , wolf, gold and silver arrow; and Mrs. Jack Skidmore for son, Carl Wayne, wolf.

Harvey Hogamier received a silver arrow and bobcat pins were placed upside down on the new inductees by their fathers until their first good turn is accomplished.

Richard Dunn, ideas chairman for the month, assisted by Mrs. Belva Miller and Miss Carol Miller, displayed an interesting assortment of pictures and articles about railroading. Some were of local railroad scenes including the fire at the C&P Shops. Lloyd Wade, local scoutmaster, assisted Miss Miller in showing two colorful films about the early progress of railroads in America and another on operations and locations of the Western Maryland Railway.

TV Reception Is Improved At Moorefield

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Permanent antenna poles have been set up and placed in operation by the Valley TV Cooperative. Manager Charles Kuykendall, D. J. Ott, John Seymour Jr. and others set the poles for the new antennas in solid rock at the site on top of Branch Mountain. Reception of the signal has been immeasurably improved and reception in many places where the signal was marginal is now coming in strong. The Old Fields section can now receive a good signal.

Kuykendall said the poles which carried the antennas were only temporary and that it is a miracle they functioned through the winter. The lead cable into the broadcasting antenna from the translators will be the next item to be improved to give a more definite signal. Kuykendall also said that there were harmonics which interfered with the signal at times and engineers from the factory would be in soon to eliminate that interference.

The drive for additional members in the cooperative is continuing and as funds become available the service will be extended into sections hitherto unable to receive the signal. Reflectors will be used to beam the signal into areas behind mountains and other obstructions.

TV Reception Is Improved At Moorefield

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Permanent antenna poles have been set up and placed in operation by the Valley TV Cooperative. Manager Charles Kuykendall, D. J. Ott, John Seymour Jr. and others set the poles for the new antennas in solid rock at the site on top of Branch Mountain. Reception of the signal has been immeasurably improved and reception in many places where the signal was marginal is now coming in strong. The Old Fields section can now receive a good signal.

Kuykendall said the poles which carried the antennas were only temporary and that it is a miracle they functioned through the winter. The lead cable into the broadcasting antenna from the translators will be the next item to be improved to give a more definite signal. Kuykendall also said that there were harmonics which interfered with the signal at times and engineers from the factory would be in soon to eliminate that interference.

The drive for additional members in the cooperative is continuing and as funds become available the service will be extended into sections hitherto unable to receive the signal. Reflectors will be used to beam the signal into areas behind mountains and other obstructions.

Moorefield, PBC, Clise's Score YMCA Tourney Wins

Broome Sets Scoring Mark For Keyser

Tallies 46 Points In Moose Win; Four Games Set Tonight

Moorefield's Mountain Men humbled the Cumberland Moose, 58-27, to eliminate the LOOM cagers in the Senior Unlimited Division quarter finals of the YMCA-Jaycees Basketball Tournament last night on the "Y" court.

The triumph put Moorefield into the semi-final round where the Mountain Men will meet the winner of tonight's Clise's Service Station - Old Germans battle on Thursday.

Today's Schedule

6:00—Jo-Jo's Basketeers vs. Police Boys Club (135-lb. Class)
7:00—Bell's Bullets vs. Steiner's Raiders (Jr. Unlimited)
8:00—Old Germans vs. Clise's Service Sta. (Sr. Unlimited)
9:00—Papermakers vs. Noland's Garage (Sr. Unlimited)

Moorefield, victorious in the opening round 73-51 over the Havelot Travelers, chalked up its second tourney win simply by outrunning the Moose, leading 14-6, 24-11 and 34-17 at the quarters.

Bill Bauserman and Grant High paced Moorefield's 20-goal attack with 16 and 13 points respectively. George McGregor's eight tallies was the best the badly outclassed Moose team could muster.

Clise's Service Station gained the quarter-final round last night in its first appearance in the tournament, defeating Robbie's Plumbers, 59-41, in the other Senior Unlimited Division game.

Use Frostburg Players

Composed principally of players from the Frostburg area, Clise's bombed the nets for 26 goals and added 7-17 free throws to eliminate the Plumbers in their first-round encounter. The winners held the edge at the quarters, 16-9, 30-19 and 46-26 to advance into tonight's fray with the Old Germans' defending champions.

Hank Winner, Herbert Howe and Ronald "Butch" Young tallied 38 points for Clise's. Charley Robinson had 10 for the losers.

The win was the second for the PBC tossers who ousted the Cumberland Opticians, 87-65, in the initial round last week.

The Police Boys team, coached by John Daum, is slated to meet St. Patrick's defending champions in the Junior Unlimited semi-finals on Thursday, but an edict by Brother Thomas, LaSalle High School athletic director, takes all LaSalle athletes out of the tourney.

LaSalle Players Withdraw

Brother Thomas informed the St. Patrick's coach and tournament officials that he has told LaSalle High athletes to withdraw from the tournament.

This order affects St. Patrick's squad which is composed largely of LaSalle players and the team may be forced to drop out of the tournament or use a substitute lineup. Several other teams in the tourney will be affected by the LaSalle edict, but none so heavily as St. Patrick's, tournament officials stated last night.

Mervin Pope and Vincent Fagan were the big guns in the PBC victory, scoring 33 points between them. Pope tallied 17 and Fagan added 16 for the winners. Marshall Hamilton poured in 20 points for Stahlman's to take scoring honors for the game.

Keyser Moose, which drew a first-round bye, dumped the Salvation Army, 68-39, in the 135-Pound Division contest which opened last night's quartet of games.

Sets New Record

Salvation Army, victors over the Blue Devils, 61-45, last week, was no match for the one-man performance of Jim Broome, Keyser center who set a new Junior Division scoring record with 46 points for the Moose.

Broome's scoring spree wiped out the 44-point mark formerly held by Fritz Showers.

Broome hit for 21 field goals, six more than the entire Salvation Army team tallied, as he hade his debut in this year's tournament. Keyser, playing for the first time, led 21-4, 34-18 and 47-27 at the quarters.

High man for Salvation Army was Bill Rawnsley with 12 points.

Michelosen To Be Speaker At Allegany Sports Dinner

Camper Club Honors Athletes On May 2

JOHN P. MICHELOSEN

John P. Michelosen, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the principal speaker at the Allegany Camper Club's annual all-sports banquet on May 2, club officials announced last night.

The dinner program is held in honor of all athletes and cheerleaders at the Campobello school and this year will have special plaudits for Allegany's undefeated football team and title winning basketball squad.

Cagers Finish 14-8

Coach Chet Payne's Blue and White cagers finished the season with a 14-8 mark, winning the WMI title with an 8-2 record, and sharing the city crown with La-Salle, each with 3-1 slates.

Michelosen has been a visitor to Cumberland on a number of occasions and he informed Coach Schwarz he will be able to appear at this year's dinner program on May 2.

The genial Pitt mentor took over the head coaching job at the university after the 1954 season, and has compiled a 33-24-5 record in six years. In his first two seasons as head coach, Michelosen guided Pitt to two bowls and one Eastern championship.

Last year Pitt finished 4-3-3 against tough opposition, beating West Virginia, 42-0; Notre Dame, 20-13; Syracuse 10-0; and Miami, 17-6; losing to UCLA, 8-7; Oklahoma, 15-14; and Penn State, 14-3. The three 7-7 ties came against Michigan State, Texas Christian and Army.

Starred At Quarterback

Michelosen first came to Pitt from Ambridge High School in 1934. He moved into the varsity quarterback spot as a sopohomore in 1935 and captained the 1937 team. In his three years on the Pitt varsity the Panthers lost only two games, were in four scoreless ties and defeated Washington in the Rose Bowl.

Michelosen was an assistant backfield coach at his alma mater in 1938, moved to Brooklyn in the National League as backfield coach in 1940 and 1941, then entered the Navy in 1942.

After World War II he served as football coach at Corpus Christi, retiring to Pittsburgh as assistant coach of the Steelers in 1946. He became head coach of the National Professional League Steelers in 1948.

Rejoining the University of Pittsburgh staff in 1952, he served under Red Dawson, taking over the reins in 1954.

Michelosen is married and has three children.

Meet On April 13

The Camper Club also announced last night that further plans for the banquet will be made at the next regular meeting on April 13 at the Allegany High School library. It will be determined where and at what time the dinner program will be held.

Harry "Buck" Grimes is president of the Camper Club; Henry Lowery is vice president and chairman of the membership committee; Carl Belt is treasurer; and Barbara Ault is the secretary.

Charles Long is chairman of the sports committee and is in charge of making arrangements for this year's diner. His wife, Mrs. Anna Ruth Long is chairman of the Thanksgiving Day program committee.

Other committee chairmen include S. Lua Syckes, band committee; James Bangard, activities committee; Mrs. Paul Kasecamp, ways and means committee; and Betsy Ross Rankin, publicity committee.

In addition to honoring the school's athletes and cheerleaders, the Camper Club supports the school choral group and band and gives financial aid for equipment and uniforms.

K.C. Options Johnny Kucks

Pitcher Is Farmed To Rochester Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Kansas City Athletics Tuesday optioned pitcher Johnny Kucks to Rochester of the International League and sent three other players to Shreveport of the Southern Association. Pitcher Norm Bass was purchased from Shreveport.

The three players optioned to Shreveport are pitchers Dave Wickersham and Paul Seitz and outfielder Frank Cipriani.

Kucks, a former New York Yankee, had a 4-10 record with the A's last year in 144 innings pitched. He is a 27-year-old righthander.

Bass, a 22-year-old righthander, has performed well during spring training and is expected to be a regular starter for the A's this season.

Wickersham had a 10-7 record with Shreveport last year while Seitz had a 6-3 record with Burlington of the Three Eye League in 1960.

Cipriani batted .340 with Sanford of the Florida State League last year.

Campy's Marriage Is On Rocks Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella's wife said Tuesday the former Brooklyn Dodger catching star is "an unhappy man...everybody is wrong but him."

Her comment was prompted by a paid advertisement in the public notices section of the New York Times which indicated their marriage is on the rocks again. The ad said:

"The undersigned will no longer be responsible for debts incurred by his wife, Ruthe Campanella. Roy Campanella, East Island, Glen Cove, L.I."

Campanella, three-time winner of the National League's most valuable player award, was paralyzed in an automobile accident in January 1958.

He filed a separation suit last August, contending his wife was away from home too much. They reconciled and he dropped the suit.

Allegany-Mt. Savage Game Date Changed

Coach Chet Payne announced last night that Allegany High's baseball team has shifted the date of its game with Mt. Savage High's Indians from May 2 to May 1 on the Campobello diamond.

The change was made in the Allegany County League schedule so the contest will not conflict with the Camper Club's sports banquet on May 2.

Collect 14 Blows, Bruce Goes Route

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—Bob Bruce, who had a 4-7 record last year, pitched the full nine innings for the Detroit Tigers and scattered nine hits to beat the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-2.

The Tigers backed up Bruce with a 14-hit attack against Pirate ace Vern Law and star relief pitcher Elroy Face. Six of the Bengal blows were for extra bases, including a homer by Al Kaline.

Bob Skinner accounted for both Pirate runs when he tagged Bruce for a homer with one man aboard in the third inning. The wallop gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead but Bruce blanked the champions the rest of the way.

Yanks Lose In 11th

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Alex Grammas singled home a run in the 11th inning off Jim Coates Tuesday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

The loss was the 17th in 25 games for the Yankees this spring.

George Crowe drew a walk from Coates to open the 11th and after Ken Boyer hit into a force play, Don Taussig beat out an infield hit advancing Boyer. Grammas then singled up the middle to decide the contest.

Balk Is Costly

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Dwight Siebler, a rookie righthander, balked home Jerry Lynch with the winning run in the ninth inning, Tuesday as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5. Lynch had opened the inning with a pinch-hit triple.

Joey Jay and Bill Henry divided the Red pitching chores, yielding nine hits. The Reds collected 12 off the Phillies' Frank Sullivan, Dick Farrell, and Siebler.

Twins Slug Ball

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins collected 17 hits to trip Milwaukee, 9-6, Tuesday despite a four-hit, two-homer performance by Braves' outfielder John Demerit.

Demerit homered in the first and sixth innings, had two singles and drove home three runs. Del Crandall also hit a four-bagger for the losers, with bases empty, in the third.

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs shoved across three unearned runs in the ninth inning today to defeat the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3, and win the championship of the Cactus League.

Cincinnati Reds Seek Blasingame

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds and San Francisco Giants reportedly were on the verge of a multiple player deal Tuesday involving second baseman Don Blasingame of the Giants.

William DeWitt, general manager of the Reds, talked on the telephone Monday night and again Tuesday with Vice President Charles Feeney of the Giants. DeWitt admitted he was after Blasingame in effort to bolster a weak "middle defense," hurt by the absence of Roy McMillan, now with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Giants apparently want a relief pitcher, either Jim Brosnan, Bill Henry or Marshall Bridges. San Francisco also was offering Jose Pagan or Joe Amalfitano in the prospective deal.

Second Game Title Series At Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics are looking to Wednesday game with St. Louis as the key to whether the National Basketball Association playoff goes a full seven games.

"I'm looking for a seven-game series," Boston's Bob Cousy admitted Tuesday. "But tomorrow's game is the key. If we win that one the percentage will be in our favor to take it in less than seven."

St. Louis Coach Paul Seymour, down 1-0 in the best-of-seven series, had his own thoughts on the matter.

"If we can get (Clyde) Lovellette back by Saturday, we'll make it a hellova series," he promised.

Lovellette, the Hawks' 6-foot-9 center and one of their better scorers, suffered a back injury in the Western Division playoff against Los Angeles and was out of action when Boston punished St. Louis 129-95 in the first game of the final playoff series.

The Hawks' team physician said Tuesday Lovellette may be able to play Saturday.

Broome Sets Scoring Mark For Keyser

Tallies 46 Points In Moose Win; Four Games Set Tonight

Moorefield's Mountain Men humbled the Cumberland Moose, 58-27, to eliminate the LOOM cagers in the Senior Unlimited Division quarter finals of the YMCA-Jaycees Basketball Tournament last night on the "Y" court.

The triumph put Moorefield into the semi-final round where the Mountain Men will meet the winner of tonight's Clise's Service Station - Old Germans battle on Thursday.

Today's Schedule

6:00—Jo-Jo's Basketeers vs. Police Boys Club (135-lb. Class)
7:00—Bert's Bullets vs. Steiner's Raiders (Jr. Unlimited)
8:00—Old Germans vs. Clise's Service Sta. (Sr. Unlimited)
9:00—Papermakers vs. Noland's Garage (Sr. Unlimited)

Moorefield, victorious in the opening round 73-51 over the Havelot Travelers, chalked up its second tourney win simply by outrunning the Moose, leading 14-6, 24-11 and 34-17 at the quarters.

Bill Bauserman and Grant High paced Moorefield's 20-goal attack with 16 and 13 points respectively. George McGregor's eight tallies was the best the badly outclassed Moose team could muster.

Clise's Service Station gained the quarter-final round last night in its first appearance in the tournament, defeating Robbie's Plumbers, 59-41, in the other Senior Unlimited Division game.

Use Frostburg Players

Composed principally of players from the Frostburg area, Clise's bombed the nets for 26 goals and added 7-17 free throws to eliminate the Plumbers in their first-round encounter. The winners held the edge at the quarters, 16-9, 30-19 and 46-26 to advance into tonight's fray with the Old Germans' defending champions.

Hank Winner, Herbert Howe and Ronald "Butch" Young tallied 38 points for Clise's. Charley Robinson had 10 for the losers.

The win was the second for the PBC tossers who ousted the Cumberland Opticians, 87-65, in the initial round last week.

The Police Boys team, coached by John Daum, is slated to meet St. Patrick's defending champions in the Junior Unlimited semi-finals on Thursday, but an edict by Brother Thomas, LaSalle High School athletic director, takes all LaSalle athletes out of the tourney.

LaSalle Players Withdraw

Brother Thomas informed the St. Patrick's coach and tournament officials that he has told LaSalle High athletes to withdraw from the tournament.

This order affects St. Patrick's squad which is composed largely of LaSalle players and the team may be forced to drop out of the tournament or use a substitute lineup. Several other teams in the tourney will be affected by the LaSalle edict, but none so heavily as St. Patrick's, tournament officials stated last night.

Mervin Pope and Vincent Fagan were the big guns in the PBC victory, scoring 33 points between them. Pope tallied 17 and Fagan added 16 for the winners. Marshall Hamilton poured in 20 points for Stahlman's to take scoring honors for the game.

Keyser Moose, which drew a first-round bye, dumped the Salvation Army, 68-39, in the 135-Pound Division contest which opened last night's quartet of games.

Sets New Record

Salvation Army, victors over the Blue Devils, 61-45, last week, was no match for the one-man performance of Jim Broome, Keyser center who set a new Junior Division scoring record with 46 points for the Moose.

Broome's scoring spree wiped out the 44-point mark formerly held by Fritz Showers.

Broome hit for 21 field goals, six more than the entire Salvation Army team tallied, as he hade his debut in this year's tournament. Keyser, playing for the first time, led 21-4, 34-18 and 47-27 at the quarters.

High man for Salvation Army was Bill Rawnsley with 12 points.

Michelosen To Be Speaker At Allegany Sports Dinner

JOHN P. MICHELOSEN

John P. Michelosen, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the principal speaker at the Allegany Camper Club's annual all-sports banquet on May 2, club officials announced last night.

The dinner program is held in honor of all athletes and cheerleaders at the Campobello school and this year will have special plaudits for Allegany's undefeated football team and title winning basketball squad.

Cagers Finish 14-8

Coach Chet Payne's Blue and White cagers finished the season with a 14-8 mark, winning the WMI title with an 8-2 record, and sharing the city crown with La-Salle, each with 3-1 slates.

Michelosen has been a visitor to Cumberland on a number of occasions and he informed Coach Schwarz he will be able to appear at this year's dinner program on May 2.

The genial Pitt mentor took over the head coaching job at the university after the 1954 season, and has compiled a 33-24-5 record in six years. In his first two seasons as head coach, Michelosen guided Pitt to two bowls and one Eastern championship.

Last year Pitt finished 4-3-3 against tough opposition, beating West Virginia, 42-0; Notre Dame, 20-13; Syracuse 10-0; and Miami, 17-6; losing to UCLA, 8-7; Oklahoma, 15-14; and Penn State, 14-3. The three 7-7 ties came against Michigan State, Texas Christian and Army.

Starred At Quarterback

Michelosen first came to Pitt from Ambridge High School in 1934. He moved into the varsity quarterback spot as a sopohomore in 1935 and captained the 1937 team. In his three years on the Pitt varsity the Panthers lost only two games, were in four scoreless ties and defeated Washington in the Rose Bowl.

Michelosen was an assistant backfield coach at his alma mater in 1938, moved to Brooklyn in the National League as backfield coach in 1940 and 1941, then entered the Navy in 1942.

After World War II he served as football coach at Corpus Christi, retiring to Pittsburgh as assistant coach of the Steelers in 1946. He became head coach of the National Professional League Steelers in 1948.

Rejoining the University of Pittsburgh staff in 1952, he served under Red Dawson, taking over the reins in 1954.

Michelosen is married and has three children.

Meet On April 13

The Camper Club also announced last night that further plans for the banquet will be made at the next regular meeting on April 13 at the Allegany High School library. It will be determined where and at what time the dinner program will be held.

Harry "Buck" Grimes is president of the Camper Club; Henry Lowery is vice president and chairman of the membership committee; Carl Belt is treasurer; and Barbara Ault is the secretary.

Charles Long is chairman of the sports committee and is in charge of making arrangements for this year's diner. His wife, Mrs. Anna Ruth Long is chairman of the Thanksgiving Day program committee.

Other committee chairmen include S. Lua Syckes, band committee; James Bangard, activities committee; Mrs. Paul Kasecamp, ways and means committee; and Betsy Ross Rankin, publicity committee.

In addition to honoring the school's athletes and cheerleaders, the Camper Club supports the school choral group and band and gives financial aid for equipment and uniforms.

Easterly, a halfback on the Orange football team, drove in his runs on a triple in the ninth to put the game on ice for Syracuse.

Pitcher Is Farmed To Rochester Club

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Kansas City Athletics Tuesday optioned pitcher Johnny Kucks to Rochester of the International League and sent three other players to Shreveport of the Southern Association. Pitcher Norm Bass was purchased from Shreveport.

The three players optioned to Shreveport are pitchers Dave Wickersham and Paul Seitz and outfielder Frank Cipriani.

Kucks, a former New York Yankee, had a 4-10 record with the A's last year in 144 innings pitched. He is a 27-year-old righthander.

Bass, a 22-year-old righthander, has performed well during spring training and is expected to be a regular starter for the A's this season.

Wickersham had a 10-7 record with Shreveport last year while Seitz had a 6-3 record with Burlington of the Three Eye League in 1960.

Cipriani batted .340 with Sanford of the Florida State League last year.

Campy's Marriage Is On Rocks Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella's wife said Tuesday the former Brooklyn Dodger catching star is "an unhappy man...everybody is wrong but him."

Her comment was prompted by a paid advertisement in the public notices section of the New York Times which indicated their marriage is on the rocks again. The ad said:

"The undersigned will no longer be responsible for debts incurred by his wife, Ruthe Campanella. Roy Campanella, East Island, Glen Cove, L.I."

Campanella, three-time winner of the National League's most valuable player award, was paralyzed in an automobile accident in January 1958.

He filed a separation suit last August, contending his wife was away from home too much. They reconciled and he dropped the suit.

Allegany-Mt. Savage Game Date Changed

Coach Chet Payne announced last night that Allegany High's baseball team has shifted the date of its game with Mt. Savage High's Indians from May 2 to May 1 on the Campobello diamond.

The change was made in the Allegany County League schedule so the contest will not conflict with the Camper Club's sports banquet on May 2.

Tigers Wallop Pirates, 11-2

Collect 14 Blows, Bruce Goes Route

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—Bob Bruce, who had a 4-7 record last year, pitched the full nine innings for the Detroit Tigers and scattered nine hits to beat the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-2.

The Tigers backed up Bruce with a 14-hit attack against Pirate ace Vern Law and star relief pitcher Elroy Face. Six of the Bengal blows were for extra bases, including a homer by Al Kaline.

Bob Skinner accounted for both Pirate runs when he tagged Bruce for a homer with one man aboard in the third inning. The wallop gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead but Bruce blanked the champions the rest of the way.

Yanks Lose In 11th

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Alex Grammas singled home a run in the 11th inning off Jim Coates Tuesday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

The loss was the 17th in 25 games for the Yankees this spring.

George Crowe drew a walk from Coates to open the 11th and after Ken Boyer hit into a force play, Don Taussig beat out an infield hit advancing Boyer. Grammas then singled up the middle to decide the contest.

Balk Is Costly

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Dwight Siebler, a rookie righthander, balked home Jerry Lynch with the winning run in the ninth inning, Tuesday as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5. Lynch had opened the inning with a pinch-hit triple.

Joey Jay and Bill Henry divided the Red pitching chores, yielding nine hits. The Reds collected 12 off the Phillies' Frank Sullivan, Dick Farrell, and Siebler.

Twins Slug Ball

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins collected 17 hits to trip Milwaukee, 9-6, Tuesday despite a four-hit, two-homer performance by Braves' outfielder John Demerit.

Demerit homered in the first and sixth innings, had two singles and drove home three runs. Del Crandall also hit a four-bagger for the losers, with bases empty, in the third.

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs shoved across three unearned runs in the ninth inning today to defeat the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3, and win the championship of the Cactus League.

Cincinnati Reds Seek Blasingame

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds and San Francisco Giants reportedly were on the verge of a multiple player deal Tuesday involving second baseman Don Blasingame of the Giants.

William DeWitt, general manager of the Reds, talked on the telephone Monday night and again Tuesday with Vice President Charles Feeney of the Giants. DeWitt admitted he was after Blasingame in effort to bolster a weak "middle defense," hurt by the absence of Roy McMillan, now with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Giants apparently want a relief pitcher, either Jim Brosnan, Bill Henry or Marshall Bridges. San Francisco also was offering Jose Pagan or Joe Amalfitano in the prospective deal.

Celtics Battle Hawks Tonight

Second Game Title Series At Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics are looking to Wednesday game with St. Louis as the key to whether the National Basketball Association playoff goes a full seven games.

"I'm looking for a seven-game series," Boston's Bob Cousy admitted Tuesday. "But tomorrow's game is the key. If we win that one the percentage will be in our favor to take it in less than seven."

St. Louis Coach Paul Seymour, down 1-0 in the best-of-seven series, had his own thoughts on the matter.

"If we can get (Clyde) Lovellette back by Saturday, we'll make it a hellova series," he promised.

Lovellette, the Hawks' 6-foot-9 center and one of their better scorers, suffered a back injury in the Western Division playoff against Los Angeles and was out of action when Boston punished St. Louis 129-95 in the first game of the final playoff series.

The Hawks' team physician said Tuesday Lovellette may be able to play Saturday.

Jockey Killed As Horse Bolts At Aqueduct

Roy Gilbert Dies Of Skull Fracture

The 22-year-old youth from London, Ky., who gained prominence in recent weeks by riding four stakes winners in 14 days, died in an ambulance while on the way to a hospital.

Dr. Alexander Kaye, the track physician, attributed Gilbert's death to a fractured skull.

It was the first time a jockey was killed at a New York track since Aug. 29, 1945, when Harry Harris, a steeplechase rider, died of injuries suffered five days earlier while schooling a horse at Belmont Park.

Gilbert, who had been riding since 1958, had trouble with Plenty Papaya even before the start of the fatal race. The 2-year-old filly, with only one previous race to her credit, was nervous entering the starting gate.

Plenty Papaya got off slowly and trailed the field going down the backstretch in the five-furlong race. Then, as she neared the stretch turn, the filly made a sharp turn to the left and headed toward the inner rail.

Gilbert tried vainly to straighten out his mount. He was leaning and "lugging" toward the right—half out of his saddle — when Plenty Papaya struck the rail, hurling Gilbert to the ground.

In 275 races this year, Gilbert, who was not married, had 24 winners and finished in the money with 60 other mounts.

Machen Or Cooper To Face Patterson In September Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson's next opponent in a September defense of his world heavyweight title in a New York ball park probably will be Henry Cooper of England or Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore.

Officials of Feature Sports Inc., narrowed the list of candidates to these two men. Tom Bolan, executive director of FSI, said he met Tuesday with Sid Flaherty, manager of Machen, No. 2 ranked challenger.

"I talked with Patterson last night," said Bolan. "He will fight in September against a top challenger. He asked me to talk with two or three proposed challengers. He said he felt Machen, because of his high ranking, should be given serious consideration."

"We will talk with Cooper's people again before anything is done. Then we will meet with Patterson to make a decision."

Jerry West Signs Three-Year Pact With Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jerry West, rookie star of the Los Angeles Lakers pro basketball club, Tuesday was signed to a new three-year contract by General Manager Lou Mohs who tore up his old agreement that had a year to run.

Mohs said the club felt that West deserved a better deal for his fine first-year performance.

"We felt that by the end of the year there were few guards in the league worth more than Jerry West," Mohs commented. "So we tore up his old contract and renegotiated a three-year pact at a substantial raise."

West was signed to a two-year contract after coming to the Lakers from the Olympic Games at Rome where he starred on the U.S. championship team. Both West and coach Fred Schaus came to the Lakers from West Virginia University.

Raiders Trade Babe Parilli

Five AFL Players Figure In Deal

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders traded veteran quarterback Vito (Babe) Parilli and fullback Billy Lott Tuesday to the Boston Patriots for three players in the biggest swap of the young American professional football League history.

In return for their two stars, the Raiders got fullback Alan Miller, halfback Dick Christy and tackle Hal Smith.

The Raiders finished fifth in the eight-team league last year with a 6-8 record. Boston was sixth.

Boston got a seasoned signal-caller in Parilli, who was the No. 2 Raider quarterback behind the Raiders' Tom Flores. The Babe, a Kentucky star, played for Green Bay, Cleveland and Ottawa before coming to the Raiders.

Lott, a former New York Giant, was Oakland's second-leading rusher. He carried the ball 99 times for 520 yards as he shared his fullback slot with Jetstream Smith.

Miller, a Boston college man, was the Patriots' leading ground gainer last year. He carried the ball 101 times for 416 yards. Christy played at North Carolina State and saw some action with the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles. He packed the ball 78 times for 363 yards for Boston.

Smith is 25, a graduate of UCLA. He stands 6-5 and weighs 250 pounds. He starred on service teams and played briefly with the Chicago Cards and the Steelers. He is a private detective in the off-season in Los Angeles.

Champs Beat Fort Ashby's Eagles, 8-0

Yellowjackets Get 14 Hits To Wallop Wardensville, 15-4

Keyser High School's defending champions blanked Fort Ashby High School by the score of 8-0 and Moorefield High's Yellowjackets downed Wardensville High's Warriors, 15-4, in the opening games of the Potomac Valley Conference baseball season yesterday at Fort Ashby and Moorefield.

The game at Fort Ashby was limited to five innings on account of cold weather but the contest at Moorefield went the regulation seven frames despite the frigid blasts.

Yield Only Two Hits

Jim Slaughter and John Giantonio limited the Eagles to two hits in twirling Keyser to victory in a game that marked the opening of the 15th season for Frederick "Tack" Clark as baseball coach of the Golden Tornado. The win went to Slaughter who yielded the two hits in four innings. Wayne Linn was the losing hurler.

"Chuck" Norrington obtained two of the six hits credited to Keyser, one a triple with a teammate aboard in the 5th, and batted in three runs. Keyser put the game on ice with a six-run outburst in the fourth frame and added two more tallies in the fifth frame. The winners pilfered 12 bases.

Keyser's next engagement is at home with the Romney Pioneers Friday at 4 p. m.

Sherman Belts Homer

Ralph Keller, Jim Flinn and Wardney Sherman obtained three hits each to pace the Jackets. Two of Keller's blows were doubles while Sherman slammed a two-run homer.

Dave Vance, who hurled hitless and runless ball for four frames, was credited with the victory. Sherman pitched two innings and Keller one.

Moorefield chased five runs over the platter on the second frame and exploded for seven runs in the 6th inning.

Tharpe, who pitched the first five frames for the Warriors, was charged with the loss.

Staniland Optioned

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles Tuesday optioned catcher Chuck Staniland to their Little Rock farm club of the Class AA Southern Association. Staniland, a 25-year-old, six-foot-five, 210-pounder, had appeared in but one exhibition game and singled as a pinch hitter.

Staniland's departure reduced to 39 the number of Orioles in camp, including 29 on the big league roster.

Adair Grand Slams In 10-Inning Tilt

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla (AP) —Jerry Adair hit a grand slam homer to cap a 6-run Baltimore rally in the ninth inning of Tuesday's exhibition game with Kansas City. But the Athletics won 11-10, in the 10th inning on Marv Throneberry's homer.

Adair's grand slammer gave the Orioles a 10-9 lead but Andy Carey homered for the Athletics in the last of the ninth to tie it and Throneberry's first homer of the spring ended the game. Gordon Jones gave up both blows.

Ray Herbert, who will be the A's opening day starter, pitched the first eight innings and left the game with the A's leading 9-3 as the result of a 13-hit attack against Billy Hoeft and Jerry Walker coupled with some sloppy Baltimore defensive play.

Jockey Killed As Horse Bolts At Aqueduct

Roy Gilbert Dies Of Skull Fracture

The 22-year-old youth from London, Ky., who gained prominence in recent weeks by riding four stakes winners in 14 days, died in an ambulance while on the way to a hospital.

It was the first time a jockey was killed at a New York track since Aug. 29, 1945, when Harry Harris, a steeplechase rider, died of injuries suffered five days earlier while schooling a horse at Belmont Park.

Gilbert, who had been riding since 1958, had trouble with Plenty Papaya even before the start of the fatal race. The 2-year-old filly, with only one previous race to her credit, was nervous entering the starting gate.

Plenty Papaya got off slowly and trailed the field going down the backstretch in the five-furlong race. Then, as she neared the stretch turn, the filly made a sharp turn to the left and headed toward the inner rail.

Gilbert tried vainly to straighten out his mount. He was leaning and "lugging" toward the right—half out of his saddle — when Plenty Papaya struck the rail, hurling Gilbert to the ground.

To Coach At Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Ken Shipp, until recently an assistant coach at Montreal in the Canadian Big Four Football Conference, was named Tuesday backfield coach at the University of Tulsa.

KILLED IN RACE — Jockey Roy Gilbert, 22, of London, Ky., was killed yesterday when he was thrown by his horse, Plenty Papaya, in the fourth race at Aqueduct Race Track in New York. Gilbert landed on his head and died in an ambulance en route to a hospital. (AP Photofax)

Machen Or Cooper To Face Patterson In September Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson's next opponent in a September defense of his world heavyweight title in a New York ball park probably will be Henry Cooper of England or Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore.

Officials of Feature Sports Inc., narrowed the list of candidates to these two men. Tom Bolan, executive director of FSI, said he met Tuesday with Sid Flaherty, manager of Machen, No. 2 ranked challenger.

"I talked with Patterson last night," said Bolan. "He will fight in September against a top challenger. He asked me to talk with two or three proposed challengers. He said he felt Machen, because of his high ranking, should be given serious consideration."

"We will talk with Cooper's people again before anything is done. Then we will meet with Patterson to make a decision."

Jerry West Signs Three-Year Pact With Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jerry West, rookie star of the Los Angeles Lakers pro basketball club, Tuesday was signed to a new three-year contract by General Manager Lou Mohs who tore up his old agreement that had a year to run.

Mohs said the club felt that West deserved a better deal for his fine first-year performance.

"We felt that by the end of the year there were few guards in the league worth more than Jerry West," Mohs commented. "So we tore up his old contract and renegotiated a three-year pact at a substantial raise."

West was signed to a two-year contract after coming to the Lakers from the Olympic Games at Rome where he starred on the U.S. championship team. Both West and coach Fred Schaus came to the Lakers from West Virginia University.

Tasby Drives In Six Runs, Senators Trim Chisox, 12-3

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Willie Tasby drove in six runs with two homers Tuesday while the Washington Senators routed the Chicago White Sox 12-3. His first homer was a grand slam.

Tasby's wallops climaxed five-run outbursts in the eighth and ninth against Juan Pizarro. Marty Keough also sit a homer in the ninth. Earlier in the game, R. C. Stevens of the Senators and Roy Sievers of the Sox hit homers.

Martin And Partee To Scout For N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Herschel Martin and Roy Partee, two former major leaguers, have been signed as scouts for the New York club which will play in the National League next season, general manager Charles Rurth announced Tuesday.

The New York organization now has eight scouts under contract. Hurth has set a goal of 20 scouts for this year.

Staniland Optioned

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles Tuesday optioned catcher Chuck Staniland to their Little Rock farm club of the Class AA Southern Association. Staniland, a 25-year-old, six-foot-five, 210-pounder, had appeared in but one exhibition game and singled as a pinch hitter.

Staniland's departure reduced to 39 the number of Orioles in camp, including 29 on the big league roster.

IN THE DRAFT

BOSTON (UPI) — K.C. Jones of the Boston Celtics is one of the few collegians ever drafted for both pro football and basketball. The Los Angeles Rams once had the gridiron rights to the Celt star.

Athletics Top Orioles, 11-10

Adair Grand Slams In 10-Inning Tilt

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla (AP) —Jerry Adair hit a grand slam homer to cap a 6-run Baltimore rally in the ninth inning of Tuesday's exhibition game with Kansas City. But the Athletics won 11-10, in the 10th inning on Marv Throneberry's homer.

Adair's grand slammer gave the Orioles a 10-9 lead but Andy Carey homered for the Athletics in the last of the ninth to tie it and Throneberry's first homer of the spring ended the game. Gordon Jones gave up both blows.

Ray Herbert, who will be the A's opening day starter, pitched the first eight innings and left the game with the A's leading 9-3 as the result of a 13-hit attack against Billy Hoeft and Jerry Walker coupled with some sloppy Baltimore defensive play.

National League Adds Two Umpires

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles Tuesday added two umpires to the loop's staff for the 1961 season. They are Allen S. Forman, 32, from the Texas League and Melvin J. Steiner, 40, from the Pacific Coast League.

Volume In Mixed Market Exceeds 7,000,000 Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — Activity on the New York Stock Exchange broke a 5½ year record again Tuesday with volume swelling to an enormous 7,080,000 shares, while prices churned irregularly.

The tremendous turnover, spurred chiefly by speculative interest in low-priced stocks, rose from 6,470,000 shares Monday. That was the most since Sept. 26, 1955 when 7,720,000 shares changed hands the day following Eisenhower's heart attack, in itself the heaviest since 9,572,000 shares traded on July 21, 1933.

Spot checks by United Press International disclosed that most of the activity came from centers in Southern California, Denver, Arizona, Florida and many resort areas plus, of course, New York City.

Overworked tickers ran late during the first 3½ hours, once as much as 15 minutes behind floor transactions in the morning again in the afternoon when much profit-taking occurred and finally at the close when the tape lagged around 4 minutes behind the exchange floor.

Brokers could offer few concrete reasons for the booming volume other than that speculative fever throughout the nation is running rampant, buyers are looking for quick profits and sellers are cashing in their 6-month profits before the tax deadline. April 10 is the last day for taking profits in the regular way to meet tax payments on April 17.

As a result of the head-on collision between buyers and sellers, the market as a whole did little.

Volume In Mixed Market Exceeds 7,000,000 Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — Activity on the New York Stock Exchange broke a 5½ year record again Tuesday with volume swelling to an enormous 7,080,000 shares, while prices churned irregularly.

The tremendous turnover, spurred chiefly by speculative interest in low-priced stocks, rose from 6,470,000 shares Monday. That was the most since Sept. 26, 1955 when 7,720,000 shares changed hands the day following Eisenhower's heart attack, in itself th heaviest since 9,572,000 shares traded on July 21, 1933.

Spot checks by United Press International disclosed that most of the activity came from centers in Southern California, Denver, Arizona, Florida and many resort areas plus, of course, New York City.

Overworked tickers ran late during the first 3½ hours, once as much as 15 minutes behind floor transactions in the morning again in the afternoon when much profit-taking occurred and finally at the close when the tape lagged around 4 minutes behind the exchange floor.

Brokers could offer few concrete reasons for the booming volume other than that speculative fever throughout the nation is running rampant, buyers are looking for quick profits and sellers are cashing in their 6-month profits before the tax deadline. April 10 is the last day for taking profits in the regular way to meet tax payments on April 17.

As a result of the head-on collision between buyers and sellers, the market as a whole did little.

Today at 11 a. m., additional meetings will be held with captains and workers for the canvass which will be the only direct personal contact for funds the Chapter will make during April which is "Cancer Month."

Another local zone organization for the canvass has been announced. This one is for Washington Street and Mrs. William C. Holbrook is captain. Assisting are Mrs. Joseph A. Shriver, Miss Karen Holbrook, Mrs. Frank Gigliotti, Mrs. Charles Frederick, Mrs. Daniel A. Powers, Mrs. Richard Bruce, Mrs. Thomas Berry and Mrs. Richard Wilkins.

Herman L. Myers, general chairman of the Crusade, said volunteer lists are being completed rapidly. Myers said no goal has been set for the fund drive but added $11,341 was realized last year.

Four Held On Bonds In Theatre Entry

Four local young men were ordered held under $500 bond each yesterday in connection with the breaking and entering of the Maryland Theatre early Sunday morning.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt set bond on the four after hearing testimony by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, and Detective Thomas See of the Cumberland Police Department.

During questioning Monday by Detective See, Charles Kline, also admitted breaking and entering the Economy Wholesale Company, 906 Gay Street, on March 27. Three boxes of candy, two cans of coffee and three boxes of gum were stolen during the entry.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are expecting our first child in a few months. He has shot off his mouth like a cannon to everyone who will listen saying that it had better be a boy or he's going to leave us both in the hospital.

I laugh it off and pretend it doesn't bother me, but I die a little inside whenever he says it. If I have a baby girl I will feel that I've failed him. As the time draws near I become increasingly fearful. This is a small town and everybody is talking about it. Please give me some moral support. I need it.—P. G. LADY

DEAR LADY: These big-mouth types are a peculiar breed of jackass for which there is no known cure. The Shah of Iran had a throne problem. What's eating on your lunkhead?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing this letter for 36 eighth graders. In history class yesterday some boys wer talking real loud while the teacher was trying to explain something.

He got mad at the whole class and made us print the first ten amendments to the constitution and a lot of long paragraphs in between. This made a total of 1,763 words. We had to do the work at home and bring it in the next morning.

Do you think its fair to punish the whole class for what a few kids do? Please answer in the paper. We want the teacher to see it. He needs the advice more than we do. — 360 CRUNCHED FINGERS

DEAR CRUNCHED: Since the beginning of man society has always had to suffer because of the mischief of a few.

I once knew a mother of seven lively children. She used to punish all the kids when something went wrong because they wouldn't snitch on each other. The next day she invariably determined the guilty party because he had a black eye or he was "sort of left out of things."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When our daughter married a rather unambitious fellow she said "I know he'll never make much money but I don't care. All I want is him." Well, it's five years later and she has "HIM" and four children.

My husband and I are fairly well off, but we're not millionaires. We started with nothing and struggled plenty. Retirement age is not far off and we're looking forward to taking life easy with no money worries.

Last week our daughter and son-in-law suggested it would be nice if we bought them a new car for their wedding anniversary. My husband said they should have a new car when they can afford to buy one themselves. They called him a "tightwad" and said he was an abnormal parent, devoid of all natural feeling for his offspring. They claim parents who can afford to help their kids out have a moral responsibility to do so — and those who don't are just plain selfish. Are they right?—H. AND A.

REAR H. AND A.: They are wrong. Parents have a moral responsibility to raise their children to be self-reliant and independent. These two sound like a pair of "gimmee pigs" who lack self-respect.

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Acts Confuse County's New $2.10 Tax Rate

Additional State Funds Not Counted

Three acts of the General Assembly, which wound up its 88-day session in Annapolis last Saturday, have combined to raise some confusion as the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday set a $2.10 real estate and personal property tax rate for the fiscal year starting July 1 —a 10-cent drop—and approved a levy list calling for total counting expenditures during the fiscal year of $5,654,141.78.

Senate Bill 423, introduced by State Senator Charles M. See and signed into law as an emergency measure March 28 by Governor J. Millard Tawes, provides that the county commissioners here must set the tax levy on the first Tuesday in April. That is two weeks earlier than the date which has prevailed for years, the third Tuesday in April. The county commissioners had asked Senator See to introduce SB423 to give County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff two more weeks to prepare the tax bills which ordinarily are mailed about June 1.

Cigarette Tax

Then, in the final acts of the legislature, House Bills 13 and 14 were enacted into law. HB 13 calls for a cigarette tax of a flat six cents a pack throughout the state, half of which will be distributed to the 23 counties and Baltimore City.

HB 14 lowers the base at which the sales tax will be charged and earmarks the increased revenue derived for increased state aid toward teacher salaries and school construction. It has been estimated that Allegany County will realize about $551,205 a year from the two taxes or about 31.1 cents on the county tax rate.

In setting the tax rate yesterday, the county commissioners did not take into consideration the anticipated additional revenue from the cigarette and sales taxes.

County Attorney Leslie J. Clark said the county commissioners could not budget any funds which they are not sure they will receive and the law provides the county cannot spend any more money than is provided in the budget. Conceivably, if the county commissioners had two more weeks in which to set the levy, as under the old schedule, they could have some more definite information about the additional revenue anticipated.

Wilson Raises Point

Although he eventually signed the levy along with his two Democrat associates, Republican Commissioner William A. Wilson first inquired what would be done about the additional state aid the county is due to receive from HB 13 and 14.

Commissioners John J. Rowan and John T. Mason pointed out that this additional revenue would not begin coming to the county until after July 1 and that they were uncertain about the details of the bill.

If this same question comes up in other counties when their levies are being set, some observers believe that Attorney General

Tax Rate Of County Is Variable

Action of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday in lowering the county real estate and personal property tax rate 10 cents to $2.10 on each $100 of assessable property marks only the seventh time in the last 21 years that the rate has been lowered.

It was the second successive year that the rate has been reduced. A year ago the rate was lowered from $2.22 to $2.20 on each $100 of assessable property.

Previous reductions in the county tax rate occurred in 1942, 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1954. Both 1942 and 1954 were county election years. Despite the occasional reduction in tax rate, the general trend in county budgets over the last 20 years has been upward. Only in 1942, 1943, 1951 and 1956 were the total county expenditures lowered.

The county rate and expenditures over the last 21 years:

Year	Tax Rate	Expenditures
1941	$1.43	$1,882,462.50
1942	1.38	1,808,410.93
1943	1.62	1,806,501.23

1948	1.67	2,619,800.77
1949	1.65	2,925,101.37
1950	1.69	3,037,849.13
1951	1.82	2,969,583.95
1952	1.82	3,353,218.71

Lonaconing Interested In Branch Library

The Mayor and Council and other citizens of Lonaconing, through their spokesman, Calvin James, town clerk, advised the Allegany County Board of Library Trustees last night that the town is interested in establishing a branch library.

Mr. James appeared before the trustees expressing community interest and asking for information as to how to proceed and what the town is expected to provide in order to participate.

Board members explained that branch libraries are presently operated in LaVale, Frostburg and Westernport. In each of these communities, housing and janitor service is furnished by the community. In LaVale, the Century Club is the sponsor. In Westernport, the town council and Woman's Civic Club are co-sponsors, and in Frostburg a library board is designated to operate the facility.

The board of trustees for the county library system appropriates funds for librarian's and clerical salaries for the branches as well as the main station, and provides other financial assistance as required, Mr. James was told. The county system provides some books, and the community board or committee or sponsors augment the number of volumes through donations.

Mr. James was advised that if Lonaconing, as a community or through some sponsoring unit within the community, can provide housing and facilities for the branch, the trustees will then consider the question of salaries and other costs. Mr. James said he will report to the Lonaconing council and others interested, and then meet again with the trustees.

The library board reviewed the budget, discussed the operation of the bookmobile which made its first visits outside the city yesterday, and discussed remodeling the library annex.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday, April 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the Court House.

Members present last night included County Commissioner John T. Mason, James Alfred Avirett, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, Judge George Henderson, attorney; F. Allan Weatherholt and Okey Michael.

Miss Walsh advised the board that funds are available for the purchase of technical and reference volumes through the generosity of a private donor. It is his desire, she explained, to help establish in Cumberland and the county, the most complete technical library of any in the country for a community of this size. Some volumes in specialized skills, technical subjects and others are already available, and more can be purchased. Miss Walsh said persons who have special requests in this area should make their wishes known at the library.

City Officials Invited To Dedication Event

An invitation has been extended to the Mayor and City Council by Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, to attend dedication ceremonies of equipment donated by the post to the Pediatrics Department of Memorial Hospital.

Dedication ceremonies for the equipment, which was donated in memory of Samuel A. Graham who served on National and Departmental Child Welfare Commissions for the Legion, will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in the assembly room of the nurses home.

800 Expected To File For TEC Payments

Extra Benefits May Total $3/10 Million

Some 800 unemployed workers in Allegany County are expected to file claims Saturday in the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security under the new federal program of extended unemployment benefits.

The temporary extended unemployment compensation program, known as TEC, is expected to add some $300,000 to the area's economy by mid-summer.

The program provides for the payment of additional benefits to workers who have exhausted their regular unemployment insurance rights since June 30, 1960, and are now unemployed, able to work and available for work.

Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office, estimated that up to 800 of the some 1,000 claimants who have exhausted regular benefits in the Cumberland Area since last June 30 are expected to claim benefits under the new emergency program.

Schedule Set

He said that since benefit checks average about $30, the 800 claimants are expected to add about $24,000 a week, or about $104,000 a month to the area's purchasing power.

The Cumberland office, located at 239 North Mechanic Street, will be one of 20 full-time Employment Security offices in Maryland which will be open Saturday from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. to take TEC claims under a schedule designed to regulate the flow of claimants and prevent undue delays.

The hour Saturday at which the potentially eligible person who wishes to file a TEC claim is to report is based on the day of the week on which he formerly filed claims for regular benefits, as follows:

If His Former Report Day Was	He Should Report Saturday At
Monday	8 a.m.
Tuesday	9 a.m.
Wednesday	10 a.m.
Thursday	11 a.m.
Friday	12 noon

Each claimant will be required to identify himself fully, and should bring his social security card and his last unemployment insurance identification card, form DES 202, which is either yellow or salmon in color.

Will File Here

Part-time offices at Mt. Savage, Lonaconing, Westernport and Frostburg, all branches of the Cumberland office, will not be open Saturday, Mr. Kenney said.

Claimants who have exhausted their benefits in these four offices should report to the Cumberland office Saturday morning.

Under the TEC program, eligible workers may draw up to half of the amount they originally were paid in regular benefits. Put another way, they receive the same weekly benefit amount for 13 weeks if they remain unemployed, as against 26 weeks previously.

To be eligible, a worker must have exhausted, since June 30, 1960, his benefits under the unemployment insurance law of any state or under special federal unemployment compensation programs for ex-servicemen and for federal civilian employes.

Must Qualify

A claimant is said to have exhausted his regular benefits when he has received the maximum benefits allowable to him in his benefit year or when his benefit year has expired before he has drawn all his benefits.

Other eligibility conditions are that he must be unemployed, must have no available benefit rights in any state, and must be able to meet the normal eligibility requirements of the Maryland law —be able and available for work with the Employment Service, and not be under a disqualification penalty.

Any person receiving certain retirement or pension payments will have his TEC weekly rate reduced by the amount of such retirement benefits paid for that week.

Grass Fire Scorches Area

Two local fire companies were summoned last night when a grass fire scorched an area between the McKaig's Hill and Central Avenue.

The blaze which was reported at 6:49 p. m. was checked by East Side firemen who were given an assist by firemen from Central station who were summoned two minutes later when Box 512 at the intersection of Maryland Avenue and Central Avenue was pulled.

West Side firemen were called out at 6:34 p. m. when Box 145 at the intersection of Cumberland and Allegany streets was pulled. It was a false alarm, firemen said.

Suspect In Robbery Released

Maryland State Police last night released a 23-year-old Pennsylvanian who was questioned extensively during the past three days in connection with an armed robbery of Jones and Ware Service Station at Red Hill on January 28.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the state police, took the suspect to Baltimore yesterday for a lie detector test but the man was later released after they returned to the LaVale barracks last night.

The suspect had been returned to Maryland Monday by St. Baker and Tfc. Bernard Chabot. Last night he was taken to Uniontown by the state police.

Over the weekend, Sgt. Baker and Tfc. Milton Hart questioned the man in Uniontown where he was apprehended by Pennsylvania authorities on a warrant obtained by Sgt. Baker.

Sgt. Baker said the man denied the charges, and Monday he volunteered to return to Maryland for additional questioning.

The robbery occurred in the early morning hours of January 28 when the lone bandit pulled into the service station, located on U. S. Route 40 and pointed a revolver at the attendant, Charles T. Ware, of Red Hill.

Ware was forced into a furnace room at the service station, after which the bandit helped himself to $95 in cash.

Former Local Man Promoted

Galen S. Harris, former assistant trainmaster here, has been appointed general superintendent of transportation by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Mr. Harris, who began his employment with the B&O in Cincinnati in 1946, was promoted to assistant division engineer in Cumberland in 1948, and in 1950 became assistant trainmaster here.

In 1952, Mr. Harris was made trainmaster at Gassaway, W. Va., and served in the same position at Baltimore until 1955 when he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Monengah Division at Grafton. He returned to Baltimore in this position for two years, and in June 1960 he was assigned as superintendent of the Wheeling division, which was subsequently consolidated in a reorganization of divisions.

Mr. Harris succeeds Paul L. Faustman, who has retired after more than 50 years of service with the B&O.

Counties Receive Share Of State Park Receipts

Four checks totaling $6,517.84 which represents 15 per cent of the receipts from state parks and recreation areas of the four westernmost counties of Maryland are being forwarded to the counties.

R. Thomas Thayer Jr., district forester, said the largest amount, $4,968.96 will go to Garrett County for 15 per cent of the receipts from Savage River, Swallow Falls and Potomac state forests and Deep Creek State Park.

The money is for the period July 1, 1960 through December 31 and is the first check for the 1961 fiscal year, Mr. Thayer said.

The second highest amount of money will go to Frederick County for receipts from Gambrill, Cunningham Falls and Gathland state parks.

Allegany County's slice is $150.70 for receipts from Green Ridge State Forest and Dan's Mountain Recreation Area.

Mr. Thayer said the income from land may fluctuate with the years but the advantages to the public from public hunting and other intangible benefits will always exceed the monetary returns.

Pa. Minister Accepts Call To St. Luke's

Will Assume Duties Here On May 7

Rev. Vernon I. Naugle, pastor of Christ Evangelical United Lutheran Church, Shrewsbury, Pa., has accepted a call to become pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church on Frederick Street.

St. Luke's has been without a pastor since last Thanksgiving when Rev. William R. Snyder left to become pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Washburn Park, Minneapolis, Minn.

Pastor Snyder had served as pastor of St. Luke's Church since January 1, 1955.

The Church Council of St. Luke's Church, upon recommendation of the pulpit committee, extended an invitation to Pastor Naugle to deliver a trial sermon on March 19, and he was unanimously accepted by the congregation.

Pastor Naugle, who is 33, was born in Altoona, Pa., and is a son of the late Rev. Vernon David Naugle, who was a Lutheran minister for 35 years. He also has a sister who was formerly a Lutheran educational missionary in India.

He received his B.A. degree from Bucknell University and was graduated from Gettysburg Seminary and ordained in 1953.

Upon his graduation, Pastor Naugle accepted a call to serve three congregations in the Loysville, Pa., area, and also served as chaplain at the Tresslerstown (Pa.) Childrens Home. For the past four years he has been pastor of Christ Lutheran Church at Shrewsbury.

He is married to the former Betty Louise Weller of Ickesburg, Pa., and they have two children, a three-year-old daughter and a two-week-old son.

The new local minister plans to move his family here the first week in May, and will conduct his first official service at St. Luke's Church on Sunday, May 7.

Pastor Naugle will be officially installed on Sunday, May 14, by Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, president of the Maryland Synod.

Special Area Tax Rates Stay Unchanged

Second highest is the 12 cent rate charged in the Mt. Savage special taxing area. Taxpayers of the LaVale Sanitary District again will pay 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property. Taxpayers of Potomac Park Addition will pay the lowest rate of the four, eight cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Final Hours Of Assembly Most Active

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Of 822 bills enacted by Maryland's General Assembly this year, 318 — more than a third — whipped through in the final 72 hours of the session.

These ranged from such far reaching measures as Gov.Tawes' tax and capital improvements programs to local bills regulating fortune tellers in Charles County and outlawing the shooting of a dog on a foxchase in Wicomico County.

The House didn't get around to debating the governor's tax program, broadening the base of the State sales tax and levying a statewide tax of 6 cents a pack on cigarets, until the final afternoon. It also took up on that final day the issue of school teachers pay, bond issues which total more than $36 million and will cost taxpayers far beyond that when redeemed with interest through the state property tax, and a variety of other matters.

A severe case of writer's cramp faces Gov. Tawes, Senate President George Della and House Speaker Perry Wilkinson when they get around to their next bill-signing ceremony.

Of the 822 bills which cleared both houses, 562 still await executive action. They must first be screened by the attorney general before the governor signs or vetoes them. No date has been set for the next bill signing.

A total of 1,551 bills were introduced — 976 in the House and 575 in the Senate. The legislature finally gave approval to 510 of the House bills and 312 Senate bills.

On top of these, lawmakers put in 221 resolutions, boosting the total pieces of legislation introduced at the 90-day session to 1,872, an average of more than 12 per legislator.

Amcelle Pact Talks Go Into Final Stage

Contract negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, and the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company go into the final stages here this week.

Both will begin at 10 a. m. and will be held at the plant.

Membership meetings have been scheduled Friday at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday at 10:30 a. m. for reports of the negotiating committee and membership action on the offer.

Mr. Stewart said Saturday is open for a meeting if it is necessary for any reason, but that union officials hope it will not be needed.

Legislators Pass 16 Motor Vehicle Bills

Driver Education Program Expanded

By MARTY SUTPHIN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) —Maryland's traffic safety program, the subject of major legislation last year, was changed very little by the 1961 General Assembly.

Some 50 bills dealing with motor vehicles were considered, but only 16 were enacted.

One of those passed and sent to Gov. Tawes expands the driver education program in Maryland high schools.

It increases the fee for learners' permits from $1 to $5 and authorizes the Department of Education to spend the money in each subdivision on the basis of the number of students in driver training courses.

Similar proposals had failed five times, but most of the past opposition was appeased this time by eliminating any mandatory provisions. Under the new law, it will be up to the local governments to determine how far they want to go in offering the instruction. Students will not be compelled to take the course.

The State Board of Education now supplements local financing of driver training up to a certain limit, but the courses are offered only in Baltimore City and a few counties.

Car Dealer Help

Local automobile dealers help defray the cost by donating cars.

It is estimated the fund will total about $500,000 a year at the start. The state will pay about $24 per student, and local schools will pay the remaining $11 required for such training.

The commissioner now is named for a four-year term by the governor. Under the merit system, he will serve as long as he performs in a competent manner.

This administration-backed bill was given an unfavorable committee report early in the session but was revived in the closing week.

Another new law provides fines of $100 to $500 or imprisonment up to 30 days for drivers who knowingly operate an uninsured car without paying the fee required in the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Law.

Another bill enacted makes it illegal to make, sell or possess fictitious drivers' licenses. The bill was introduced after a group of prisoners at the Maryland Penitentiary was found to be printing false licenses or titles.

Bills Enacted

Other new acts:

1. Require police making a drunken driving charge to advise the defendant he may take a chemical test.

2. Provide automatic 30-day suspension of the license of a minor convicted of four moving violations.

3. Authorize local governments to make special regulations on roads damaged by snow or rain.

4. Require all new cars licensed in Maryland to have outside mirrors on the driver's side and turn signals.

5. Authorize the Department of Motor Vehicles to microfilm records and destroy certain old records.

Some Failures

Among bills that failed was one calling for a commission to study retail gasoline prices. It passed the House but died in the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee.

Other bills killed would have required drivers to be re-examined every three years, raised the minimum age for drivers from 16 to 18, required safety glass on all cars and required all cars to be insured.

A bill introduced late in the session would have raised the titling tax on motor vehicles from 2 to 3 per cent and used the money to improve secondary roads. The House Ways and Means Committee declined to approve it, saying it came in too late for thorough consideration.

Garrett Road Job Awarded

The Baughman Contracting Company, LaVale, has been awarded the $379,425.19 contract for the improvement of Maryland Route 42 near Friendsville, according to John B. Funk, chairman-director of the Maryland State Roads Commission.

John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer, said the contractor is already assembling equipment on the site and will be allowed to proceed when the weather breaks in Garrett County.

Downey Price, president of the junior class, has invited students from nearby colleges and the general public to attend the event. Mr. Price is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Price, Park Heights, LaVale.

Acts Confuse County's New $2.10 Tax Rate

Additional State Funds Not Counted

Three acts of the General Assembly, which wound up its 88-day session in Annapolis last Saturday, have combined to raise some confusion as the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday set a $2.10 real estate and personal property tax rate for the fiscal year starting July 1 —a 10-cent drop—and approved a levy list calling for total counting expenditures during the fiscal year of $5,654,141.78.

Senate Bill 423, introduced by State Senator Charles M. See and signed into law as an emergency measure March 28 by Governor J. Millard Tawes, provides that the county commissioners here must set the tax levy on the first Tuesday in April. That is two weeks earlier than the date which has prevailed for years, the third Tuesday in April. The county commissioners had asked Senator See to introduce SB423 to give County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff two more weeks to prepare the tax bills which ordinarily are mailed about June 1.

Cigarette Tax

Then, in the final acts of the legislature, House Bills 13 and 14 were enacted into law. HB 13 calls for a cigarette tax of a flat six cents a pack throughout the state, half of which will be distributed to the 23 counties and Baltimore City.

HB 14 lowers the base at which the sales tax will be charged and earmarks the increased revenue derived for increased state aid toward teacher salaries and school construction. It has been estimated that Allegany County will realize about $551,205 a year from the two taxes or about 31.1 cents on the county tax rate.

In setting the tax rate yesterday, the county commissioners did not take into consideration the anticipated additional revenue from the cigarette and sales taxes.

County Attorney Leslie J. Clark said the county commissioners could not budget any funds which they are not sure they will receive and the law provides the county cannot spend any more money than is provided in the budget. Conceivably, if the county commissioners had two more weeks in which to set the levy, as under the old schedule, they could have some more definite information about the additional revenue anticipated.

Wilson Raises Point

Although he eventually signed the levy along with his two Democrat associates, Republican Commissioner William A. Wilson first inquired what would be done about the additional state aid the county is due to receive from HB 13 and 14.

Commissioners John J. Rowan and John T. Mason pointed out that this additional revenue would not begin coming to the county until after July 1 and that they were uncertain about the details of the bill.

If this same question comes up in other counties when their levies are being set, some observers believe that Attorney General

Tax Rate Of County Is Variable

Action of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday in lowering the county real estate and personal property tax rate 10 cents to $2.10 on each $100 of assessable property marks only the seventh time in the last 21 years that the rate has been lowered.

It was the second successive year that the rate has been reduced. A year ago the rate was lowered from $2.22 to $2.20 on each $100 of assessable property.

Previous reductions in the county tax rate occurred in 1942, 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1954. Both 1942 and 1954 were county election years. Despite the occasional reduction in tax rate, the general trend in county budgets over the last 20 years has been upward. Only in 1942, 1943, 1951 and 1956 were the total county expenditures lowered.

The county rate and expenditures over the last 21 years:

Year	Tax Rate	Expenditures
1941	$1.43	$1,882,462.50
1942	1.38	1,808,410.93
1943	1.62	1,806,501.23
1944	1.77	1,811,806.88

1947	1.72	2,115,851.79
1948	1.67	2,619,800.77
1949	1.65	2,925,101.37
1950	1.69	3,037,849.13
1951	1.82	2,969,583.95
1952	1.82	3,353,218.71
1953	1.87	3,665,689.01
1954	1.80	3,719,755.31

Lonaconing Interested In Branch Library

The Mayor and Council and other citizens of Lonaconing, through their spokesman, Calvin James, town clerk, advised the Allegany County Board of Library Trustees last night that the town is interested in establishing a branch library.

Mr. James appeared before the trustees expressing community interest and asking for information as to how to proceed and what the town is expected to provide in order to participate.

Board members explained that branch libraries are presently operated in LaVale, Frostburg and Westernport. In each of these communities, housing and janitor service is furnished by the community. In LaVale, the Century Club is the sponsor. In Westernport, the town council and Woman's Civic Club are co-sponsors, and in Frostburg a library board is designated to operate the facility.

The board of trustees for the county library system appropriates funds for librarian's and clerical salaries for the branches as well as the main station, and provides other financial assistance as required, Mr. James was told. The county system provides some books, and the community board or committee or sponsors augment the number of volumes through donations.

Mr. James was advised that if Lonaconing, as a community or through some sponsoring unit within the community, can provide housing and facilities for the branch, the trustees will then consider the question of salaries and other costs. Mr. James said he will report to the Lonaconing council and others interested, and then meet again with the trustees.

The library board reviewed the budget, discussed the operation of the bookmobile which made its first visits outside the city yesterday, and discussed remodeling the library annex.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday, April 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the Court House.

Members present last night included County Commissioner John T. Mason, James Alfred Avirett, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, Judge George Henderson, attorney; F. Allan Weatherholt and Okey Michael.

Miss Walsh advised the board that funds are available for the purchase of technical and reference volumes through the generosity of a private donor. It is his desire, she explained, to help establish in Cumberland and the county, the most complete technical library of any in the country for a community of this size. Some volumes in specialized skills, technical subjects and others are already available, and more can be purchased. Miss Walsh said persons who have special requests in this area should make their wishes known at the library.

City Officials Invited To Dedication Event

An invitation has been extended to the Mayor and City Council by Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, to attend dedication ceremonies of equipment donated by the post to the Pediatrics Department of Memorial Hospital.

Dedication ceremonies for the equipment, which was donated in memory of Samuel A. Graham who served on National and Departmental Child Welfare Commissions for the Legion, will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in the assembly room of the nurses home.

800 Expected To File For TEC Payments

Extra Benefits May Total $3/10 Million

Some 800 unemployed workers in Allegany County are expected to file claims Saturday in the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security under the new federal program of extended unemployment benefits.

The temporary extended unemployment compensation program, known as TEC, is expected to add some $300,000 to the area's economy by mid-summer.

The program provides for the payment of additional benefits to workers who have exhausted their regular unemployment insurance rights since June 30, 1960, and are now unemployed, able to work and available for work.

Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office, estimated that up to 800 of the some 1,000 claimants who have exhausted regular benefits in the Cumberland Area since last June 30 are expected to claim benefits under the new emergency program.

Schedule Set

He said that since benefit checks average about $30, the 800 claimants are expected to add about $24,000 a week, or about $104,000 a month to the area's purchasing power.

The Cumberland office, located at 239 North Mechanic Street, will be one of 20 full-time Employment Security offices in Maryland which will be open Saturday from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. to take TEC claims under a schedule designed to regulate the flow of claimants and prevent undue delays.

The hour Saturday at which the potentially eligible person who wishes to file a TEC claim is to report is based on the day of the week on which he formerly filed claims for regular benefits, as follows:

If His Former Report Day Was	He Should Report Saturday At
Monday	8 a.m.
Tuesday	9 a.m.
Wednesday	10 a.m.
Thursday	11 a.m.
Friday	12 noon

Each claimant will be required to identify himself fully, and should bring his social security card and his last unemployment insurance identification card, form DES 202, which is either yellow or salmon in color.

Will File Here

Part-time offices at Mt. Savage, Lonaconing, Westernport and Frostburg, all branches of the Cumberland office, will not be open Saturday, Mr. Kenney said.

Claimants who have exhausted their benefits in these four offices should report to the Cumberland office Saturday morning.

Under the TEC program, eligible workers may draw up to half of the amount they originally were paid in regular benefits. Put another way, they receive the same weekly benefit amount for 13 weeks if they remain unemployed, as against 26 weeks previously.

The program is a temporary one applicable in Maryland only to periods of unemployment between April 9, 1961, and June 30, 1962.

To be eligible, a worker must have exhausted, since June 30, 1960, his benefits under the unemployment insurance law of any state or under special federal unemployment compensation programs for ex-servicemen and for federal civilian employes.

Must Qualify

A claimant is said to have exhausted his regular benefits when he has received the maximum benefits allowable to him in his benefit year or when his benefit year has expired before he has drawn all his benefits.

Other eligibility conditions are that he must be unemployed, must have no available benefit rights in any state, and must be able to meet the normal eligibility requirements of the Maryland law —be able and available for work with the Employment Service, and not be under a disqualification penalty.

Any person receiving certain retirement or pension payments will have his TEC weekly rate reduced by the amount of such retirement benefits paid for that week.

Grass Fire Scorches Area

Two local fire companies were summoned last night when a grass fire scorched an area between the McKaig's Hill and Central Avenue.

The blaze which was reported at 6:49 p. m. was checked by East Side firemen who were given an assist by firemen from Central station who were summoned two minutes later when Box 512 at the intersection of Maryland Avenue and Central Avenue was pulled.

West Side firemen were called out at 6:34 p. m. when Box 145 at the intersection of Cumberland and Allegany streets was pulled. It was a false alarm, firemen said.

Suspect In Robbery Released

Maryland State Police last night released a 23-year-old Pennsylvanian who was questioned extensively during the past three days in connection with an armed robbery of Jones and Ware Service Station at Red Hill on January 28.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the state police, took the suspect to Baltimore yesterday for a lie detector test but the man was later released after they returned to the LaVale barracks last night.

The suspect had been returned to Maryland Monday by St. Baker and Tfc. Bernard Chabot. Last night he was taken to Uniontown by the state police.

Over the weekend, Sgt. Baker and Tfc. Milton Hart questioned the man in Uniontown where he was apprehended by Pennsylvania authorities on a warrant obtained by Sgt. Baker.

Sgt. Baker said the man denied the charges, and Monday he volunteered to return to Maryland for additional questioning.

The robbery occurred in the early morning hours of January 28 when the lone bandit pulled into the service station, located on U. S. Route 40 and pointed a revolver at the attendant, Charles T. Ware, of Red Hill.

Ware was forced into a furnace room at the service station, after which the bandit helped himself to $95 in cash.

Former Local Man Promoted

Galen S. Harris, former assistant trainmaster here, has been appointed general superintendent of transportation by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Mr. Harris, who began his employment with the B&O in Cincinnati in 1946, was promoted to assistant division engineer in Cumberland in 1948, and in 1950 became assistant trainmaster here.

In 1952, Mr. Harris was made trainmaster at Gassaway, W. Va., and served in the same position at Baltimore until 1955 when he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Monengah Division at Grafton. He returned to Baltimore in this position for two years, and in June 1960 he was assigned as superintendent of the Wheeling division, which was subsequently consolidated in a reorganization of divisions.

Mr. Harris succeeds Paul L. Faustman, who has retired after more than 50 years of service with the B&O.

Counties Receive Share Of State Park Receipts

Four checks totaling $6,517.84 which represents 15 per cent of the receipts from state parks and recreation areas of the four westernmost counties of Maryland are being forwarded to the counties.

R. Thomas Thayer Jr., district forester, said the largest amount, $4,968.96 will go to Garrett County for 15 per cent of the receipts from Savage River, Swallow Falls and Potomac state forests and Deep Creek State Park.

The money is for the period July 1, 1960 through December 31 and is the first check for the 1961 fiscal year, Mr. Thayer said.

The second highest amount of money will go to Frederick County for receipts from Gambrill, Cunningham Falls and Gathland state parks.

Allegany County's slice is $150.70 for receipts from Green Ridge State Forest and Dan's Mountain Recreation Area.

Mr. Thayer said the income from land may fluctuate with the years but the advantages to the public from public hunting and other intangible benefits will always exceed the monetary returns.

Pa. Minister Accepts Call To St. Luke's

Will Assume Duties Here On May 7

Rev. Vernon I. Naugle, pastor of Christ Evangelical United Lutheran Church, Shrewsbury, Pa., has accepted a call to become pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church on Frederick Street.

St. Luke's has been without a pastor since last Thanksgiving when Rev. William R. Snyder left to become pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Washburn Park, Minneapolis, Minn.

Pastor Snyder had served as pastor of St. Luke's Church since January 1, 1955.

The Church Council of St. Luke's Church, upon recommendation of the pulpit committee, extended an invitation to Pastor Naugle to deliver a trial sermon on March 19, and he was unanimously accepted by the congregation.

Pastor Naugle, who is 33, was born in Altoona, Pa., and is a son of the late Rev. Vernon David Naugle, who was a Lutheran minister for 35 years. He also has a sister who was formerly a Lutheran educational missionary in India.

He received his B.A. degree from Bucknell University and was graduated from Gettysburg Seminary and ordained in 1953.

Upon his graduation, Pastor Naugle accepted a call to serve three congregations in the Loysville, Pa., area, and also served as chaplain at the Tresslerstown (Pa.) Childrens Home. For the past four years he has been pastor of Christ Lutheran Church at Shrewsbury.

He is married to the former Betty Louise Weller of Ickesburg, Pa., and they have two children, a three-year-old daughter and a two-week-old son.

The new local minister plans to move his family here the first week in May, and will conduct his first official service at St. Luke's Church on Sunday, May 7.

Pastor Naugle will be officially installed on Sunday, May 14, by Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, president of the Maryland Synod.

Final Hours Of Assembly Most Active

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Of 822 bills enacted by Maryland's General Assembly this year, 318 — more than a third — whipped through in the final 72 hours of the session.

These ranged from such far reaching measures as Gov.Tawes' tax and capital improvements programs to local bills regulating fortune tellers in Charles County and outlawing the shooting of a dog on a foxchase in Wicomico County.

The House didn't get around to debating the governor's tax program, broadening the base of the State sales tax and levying a statewide tax of 6 cents a pack on cigarets, until the final afternoon. It also took up on that final day the issue of school teachers pay, bond issues which total more than $36 million and will cost taxpayers far beyond that when redeemed with interest through the state property tax, and a variety of other matters.

A severe case of writer's cramp faces Gov. Tawes, Senate President George Della and House Speaker Perry Wilkinson when they get around to their next bill-signing ceremony.

Of the 822 bills which cleared both houses, 562 still await executive action. They must first be screened by the attorney general before the governor signs or vetoes them. No date has been set for the next bill signing.

A total of 1,551 bills were introduced — 976 in the House and 575 in the Senate. The legislature finally gave approval to 510 of the House bills and 312 Senate bills.

On top of these, lawmakers put in 221 resolutions, boosting the total pieces of legislation introduced at the 90-day session to 1,872, an average of more than 12 per legislator.

Amcelle Pact Talks Go Into Final Stage

Contract negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, and the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company go into the final stages here this week.

James R. Stewart, president of the 2,100 member local, said negotiating sessions have been scheduled Thursday and Friday.

Both will begin at 10 a. m. and will be held at the plant.

Membership meetings have been scheduled Friday at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday at 10:30 a. m. for reports of the negotiating committee and membership action on the offer.

Mr. Stewart said Saturday is open for a meeting if it is necessary for any reason, but that union officials hope it will not be needed.

Legislators Pass 16 Motor Vehicle Bills

Driver Education Program Expanded

By MARTY SUTPHIN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) —Maryland's traffic safety program, the subject of major legislation last year, was changed very little by the 1961 General Assembly.

Some 50 bills dealing with motor vehicles were considered, but only 16 were enacted.

One of those passed and sent to Gov. Tawes expands the driver education program in Maryland high schools.

It increases the fee for learners' permits from $1 to $5 and authorizes the Department of Education to spend the money in each subdivision on the basis of the number of students in driver training courses.

Similar proposals had failed five times, but most of the past opposition was appeased this time by eliminating any mandatory provisions. Under the new law, it will be up to the local governments to determine how far they want to go in offering the instruction. Students will not be compelled to take the course.

The State Board of Education now supplements local financing of driver training up to a certain limit, but the courses are offered only in Baltimore City and a few counties.

Car Dealer Help

It is estimated the fund will total about $500,000 a year at the start. The state will pay about $24 per student, and local schools will pay the remaining $11 required for such training.

John R. Jewell, commissioner of motor vehicles, was put under the merit system by a law enacted in the final hours of the session.

The commissioner now is named for a four-year term by the governor. Under the merit system, he will serve as long as he performs in a competent manner.

This administration-backed bill was given an unfavorable committee report early in the session but was revived in the closing week.

Another new law provides fines of $100 to $500 or imprisonment up to 30 days for drivers who knowingly operate an uninsured car without paying the fee required in the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Law.

Another bill enacted makes it illegal to make, sell or possess fictitious drivers' licenses. The bill was introduced after a group of prisoners at the Maryland Penitentiary was found to be printing false licenses or titles.

Bills Enacted

Other new acts:

1. Require police making a drunken driving charge to advise the defendant he may take a chemical test.

2. Provide automatic 30-day suspension of the license of a minor convicted of four moving violations.

3. Authorize local governments to make special regulations on roads damaged by snow or rain.

4. Require all new cars licensed in Maryland to have outside mirrors on the driver's side and turn signals.

5. Authorize the Department of Motor Vehicles to microfilm records and destroy certain old records.

Some Failures

Among bills that failed was one calling for a commission to study retail gasoline prices. It passed the House but died in the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee.

Other bills killed would have required drivers to be re-examined every three years, raised the minimum age for drivers from 16 to 18, required safety glass on all cars and required all cars to be insured.

A bill introduced late in the session would have raised the titling tax on motor vehicles from 2 to 3 per cent and used the money to improve secondary roads. The House Ways and Means Committee declined to approve it, saying it came in too late for thorough consideration.

Garrett Road Job Awarded

The Baughman Contracting Company, LaVale, has been awarded the $379,425.19 contract for the improvement of Maryland Route 42 near Friendsville, according to John B. Funk, chairman-director of the Maryland State Roads Commission.

The project calls for grading, draining and paving of a section of the road westerly from a point 8-10 of a mile west of Friendsville.

John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer, said the contractor is already assembling equipment on the site and will be allowed to proceed when the weather breaks in Garrett County.

Top Male Quartet To Appear At College

Downey Price, president of the junior class, has invited students from nearby colleges and the general public to attend the event. Mr. Price is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Price, Park Heights, LaVale.
